5000 Jobless Men Marching On Mingo County as Martial Law Protest

CHILLICOTHE, Ohio, August 25.—Federal troops at Camp Sherman were ready today to move against alleged "invaders" of West Virginia coal fields. Orders received late today were to hold the Nineteenth infantry of 565 officers and men ready to entrain. Preparations were being made to start on an hour's notice.

RACINE, W. Va., August 25.—Apparently ignoring reports that they would be met with resistance at the Logan county line by armed citizens, the "army of miners," estimated between 5,000 and 7,000, straggled through here today on their march to Mingo. Practically all were armed. A steady stream of men has passed through the town since early morning. They travelled along the main highway that runs from Charleston to Williamson, Mingo county.

United Press Leased Wire
CHARLESTON, W. Va., August 25.—Five thousand miners, many of them armed, were reported this afternoon marching from Marmet, twelve miles from here, toward the coal fields in Mingo and Logan counties, in protest against martial law there.

Governor Morgan telegraphed the war department in Washington urging that 1000 federal troops be sent to the scene to halt the invasion. Reports to the governor's office said the miners were marching like an army, commandeering stores as they advanced, some walking and some riding in automobiles. Advice from Logan said that hundreds of citizens there were organizing to oppose the advance of the miners. An armed clash was feared.

Governor Morgan, in a proclamation to the people of West Virginia today said he used every resource to restore order in the area affected by the mine riots.

Morgan charged the march of the striking miners into Mingo county to be the result of propaganda of radicals. Today's developments are the outgrowth of the protracted warfare in the coal fields between union miners and non-union miners and employers.

Several days ago hundreds of miners began assembling at Marmet, near here. Many were armed. They camped out. "Mother" Jones, famous mine labor leader, went there and addressed the men.

Bodies of a white man and a negro were reported to have been found after the miners' army marched. It was said they were slain as "spies."

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—An emergency appeal to the war department for 1000 federal soldiers to keep 5000 armed coal miners from entering the Mingo and Logan counties, West Virginia, coal fields, was made today by Governor Morgan, of West Virginia.

Morgan warned that 5000 men are gathered at Marmet, W. Va., 12 miles from Charleston and that they are moving on the coal fields in the two counties.

The miner's army is equipped with rifles, revolvers and machine guns, the governor said.

Stores have been robbed, officers have been disarmed, telephone lines torn down and telephone repairmen fired upon and trains have been commandeered to carry many of the miners, the governor said.

He declared that the state cannot cope with the situation. The legislature being out of session, the governor said he found himself powerless to concentrate the number of men required to restore and maintain order.

Assistant Secretary of War Walnwright said that orders had gone to the fifth army corps headquarters at Indianapolis to have troops in readiness to respond to an order from the president to take charge of the disturbed area in case federal intervention is decided upon.

Upon being informed of the threatened war, Senator Kenyon, Iowa, announced he would call a meeting today of the senate committee investigating situation to determine what action would be taken.

Broken Message Tells Story of Heroism In Great Air Tragedy

HOWDEN, England, Aug. 25.—"The ship's back is broken. We are afloat and falling. We—" This was the last message sent out by the ZR-2, whose wireless officer, Lieutenant W. H. Wicks, remained gallantly at his post to the last moment, communicating with the airdrome here.

Although facing certain death, Lieutenant Wicks stuck to his post, it was believed here from the fact that his message was broken in the middle.

LONDON, August 25.—"I do not believe De Valera's reply will terminate peace negotiations," a Downing street official said today after the Sinn Fein answer to Lloyd George's peace proposal had been delivered.

The answer was handed to Lloyd George personally. He summoned the cabinet to discuss it.

DUBLIN, August 25.—Sinn Fein's reply to the British proposals has been sent to London. Before this announcement was made, members of the Dail Eir-eann indicated that it had not "slammed the door to peace" but that it was not complete acceptance of the British terms.

Bares Plot to Kill President Obregon; Flees

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 25.—Four ex-officers were arrested here today charged with a conspiracy to kill President Obregon.

Five men drew lots, according to the police, and General Perez of the Mexican army was elected to commit the assassination. Perez, fearful of the results of such a crime, wrote a letter to Obregon, giving full details of the plot and then fled to the United States.

BOOZE SHIPS DODGE AMERICAN BLOCKADE

NORFOLK, Va., Aug. 25.—Two hundred and fifty thousand dollars worth of Scotch whisky has been landed somewhere along the shore of Chesapeake bay by five bootlegging motor schooners from Nassau, Bahamas, it was believed here today.

The bootleg fleet ran a revenue cutter blockade off the Virginia Capes, dodged pursuing craft, in Chesapeake Bay and is now thought to have landed safely its contraband cargo and escaped to the open sea.

GRAIN AND MINING MEASURES SIGNED

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—The Capper-Tincher bill for regulating trading in grain, exchanges, and the bill which extends the period for doing assessment work on mining claims were signed by President Harding.

The first bill imposes a prohibitive tax upon "puts and calls" and other speculative transactions, and upon all grain exchanges which do not become "contract markets."

Exchanges and their individual members are requested to report fully to the Secretary of Agriculture on all transactions they handle.

2000 Oil Field Workers Plan Strike as Wage Slash Looms

SAN FRANCISCO, August 25.—Conferences in an effort to avert a strike of 2,000 oil field workers were in progress today.

In the meantime the oil field union members stood pat on their refusal to accept any alteration of the terms under which their union is recognized and strongly opposed any reduction in wages.

Reports from authoritative sources in the oil field districts of Kern, Ventura, San Luis Obispo, Orange, Los Angeles and Santa Barbara counties were that quiet preparations to cope with a strike were being made by the employing companies.

These reports had it that advantage of the overstocked labor market would be taken and that already arrangements to rush crews to take the places of the strikers from San Francisco and Los Angeles had been made.

At Taft, Santa Barbara, Bakersfield and other oil centers the men have not been idle in drawing up their battle lines, all reports showed.

BATTLESHIP MAY BRING VICTIMS AIR DISASTER BACK TO U. S.

HULL, England, Aug. 25.—Tangled, twisted wreckage of what was the world's greatest airship appeared above the surface of the River Humber this afternoon when the tide reached its greatest ebb. Divers and British and American sailors were sent out in search of more bodies of their forty-three comrades who perished when the ZR-2 fell flaming yesterday afternoon. Great throngs gathered to watch the rescuers, who were in considerable danger as they struggled against the mud and current to explore the shattered halves of the great dirigible.

HULL, England, August 25.—Request that the United States battleship Utah come here to take home the bodies of the sixteen American officers and men who lost their lives when the ZR-2 fell into the Humber river, was made this afternoon by American naval officers who are conducting an official probe into the disaster—the greatest in the history of the air.

It was learned this afternoon that many of the forty-three men aboard who were blown to pieces by the explosion or burned to death were asleep in their bunks when the accident occurred.

The official inquiry has established the fact that Commander Wann steered his ship away from the city of Hull and over Humber river when he first felt the cracking of the girders, thus preventing the burning monster from falling into the center of the city.

The Utah is equipped with coffins. American officers said, but she is unable to come here in time to carry home the bodies they asked that destroyers be sent from the Black Sea.

The most graphic stories of the great disaster were told the United Press today by Flight Lieutenant A. H. Wann, commander of the airship and Norman Walker, the only American saved.

"The whole thing happened in five seconds," Wann said, lying in Hull hospital.

Test Nearly Finished
"My ship was running beautifully at 60 knots an hour as we swung over the city of Hull. Our tests were nearly finished. We hoped to be down soon."

"I had just signalled that the speed be reduced to 50 knots when suddenly I heard a terrific crack. I believe that several girders must have broken. The ship buckled and the explosion followed."

"The cause of the explosion will probably never be known."

"I was in sole control of the ZR-2 when the disaster occurred," Lieutenant Wann continued. "I felt the forward car, from which I was commanding the ship, falling swiftly through the air, immediately after the loud cracking amidships."

"Then it rose sharply at a high angle."

"I pulled the water ballast for the purpose of levelling the keel."

Blast Shakes Ship
"Suddenly there was a terrific explosion which I felt and heard in the forward car. I think many men were killed outright by the blast, for

Reds In Advance Protest Over Arms Parley Rulings

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 25.—Russia today served warning on the world that she would not be bound by decision of the coming Washington disarmament conference, according to the text of a note to the allied powers, given out here by Selig Shulburg, who claims to be a representative of the Soviet government.

Schulburg said he received the text of the protest from Rosta Wies ("the red wire") and that it has been sent by Foreign Minister Tchitcherin, to representatives of the United States, Great Britain, France, China and Japan.

Failure of President Harding to invite Russia to the disarmament conference, was the reason for the Soviet to announce reservation of "full freedom of action."

The Soviet commissary of state holds that as a result of this failure to invite the Russians to the disarmament conference the powers have no right to "represent Russian interests, for the proceedings of these powers aim only at injuring the interests of the government of the workers and peasants."

Tchitcherin's note emphasized that while Soviet Russia's policy is naturally favorable to disarmament it will refuse to be bound by any conference of the subject of which it is not a participant.

ALLEGED SWINDLERS OFFER CONFESSIONS IN HUGE BANK PLOT

United Press Leased Wire
CHICAGO, Aug. 25.—The alleged outlaw financial operations of Charles W. French mounted to $500,000 today as safety depositories over the country were pried open.

Members of the gang of alleged bank wreckers rushed to Assistant District Attorney Clinlin with their confessions of their part in the French syndicate in an effort to get out from under and win immunity.

Harshman's cache showed $500,000 worth of notes signed by French and $250,000 in notes signed by Harshman, and endorsed by The Development Securities company, of which French was head.

"We interrupted French, just in time to prevent a panic among many banks and over forty industrial concerns," said Clinlin.

announced.

Examination of papers seized in the Milwaukee apartment of Alva Harshman, French's secretary, who has confessed, revealed three million dollars' worth of notes and securities.

Arrest of Z. W. Davis, former millionaire of Canton and Cleveland, Ohio, was ordered following a conference between Harshman and Clinlin.

Harshman's cache showed $500,000 worth of notes signed by French and $250,000 in notes signed by Harshman, and endorsed by The Development Securities company, of which French was head.

"We interrupted French, just in time to prevent a panic among many banks and over forty industrial concerns," said Clinlin.

Murder Gang Hurls New Death In San Jose Slaying Mystery

SAN JOSE, Cal., Aug. 25.—A letter purporting to come from the same "gang" that assassinated Charles Hinds, wealthy candy manufacturer here two weeks ago today threatened the life of Charles Becker, well known cigar man of Santa Clara.

The note, scrawled on yellow wrapping paper, was left at the office of the San Jose News.

No definite trace of the murderers of Hinds has been uncovered by police since three men were seen to escape from the rear of his palatial residence early in the morning, and take flight in an automobile.

The letter received today makes no demands, merely announcing the intention of the gang to add another victim. It reads:

"We are not done yet. Men killed in war or out is just the same. Our next victim is Becker, cigar man. We'll get him August 25 like we did C. J. Hinds. No police can get our system. It is new and not understood by them. Respectfully, The Never Suspects."

Police, although inclined to think the letter a hoax have taken precautions for the protection of Becker and are investigating the origin of the letter.

It was at first believed that Hinds was the victim of business enemies, but all suspects in the murder have succeeded in satisfying police of their innocence.

Becker could assign no motive for any attack upon him.

MINER LOSES LIFE IN FEATHER RIVER

OROVILLE, Aug. 25.—David Fox, a miner, aged 40, was drowned in the north fork of the Feather river near Bloomer Hill, according to Joseph Powers and David Walsh, his companions.

Fox met his death, it was said, when he was attempting to cross the river on a raft. When in the center of the stream the raft was driven against a huge rock by the current and Fox was knocked into the water and carried away by the current. His body has not yet been found.

PENNSY CONTINUES OPEN SHOP BATTLE

CHICAGO, Aug. 25.—Again challenging the right of the United States railroad labor board to dictate the policy governing the road's dealings with its employees, the Pennsylvania railway, through application asking the board to set aside its recent decision in the federated shop crafts case, has renewed its fight for the open shop.

The decision, which it is sought to reverse, held that employees, in selecting representatives to deal with the road officials in all matters of dispute, should be given opportunity to vote for individuals or organizations—union or nonunion.

CALIFORNIAN CAN'T LAND AT PAGO PAGO

SYDNEY, Aug. 25.—Samuel Ripley of Richmond, Cal., a passenger aboard the steamship Sonoma, was refused permission to land at Pago Pago for alleged political reasons.

Ripley says that he is an American citizen, and that he was born in American Samoa and that he served with the United States tank corps in France.

LINCOLN, Neb., August 25.—A reward of $200 for the arrest and delivery of the person or persons who murdered D. S. Bingham of Lansing, Mich., former prominent Michigan newspaper man, at Paponee, Neb., Kelvie.

Bingham was found dead in a box July 17, was offered by Gov. McCardell the steamship Sonoma, was refused permission to land at Pago Pago for alleged political reasons.

Ripley says that he is an American citizen, and that he was born in American Samoa and that he served with the United States tank corps in France.

CANADIAN SHIP GOES DOWN IN MYSTERIOUS DISASTER

United Press Leased Wire
SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 25.—Fear that a death list as high as forty may result from the sinking early today of the steamer Canadian Importer, 625 miles southwest of the Columbia river, was expressed when word was received that the rescuing ship Cordova, carrying, according to dispatches, "part of the crew," had left the scene of the wreck for Portland, Ore.

A previous dispatch to the Seattle harbor department and related to San Francisco stated that one of the lifeboats, believed to have contained 40 persons, most of them members of the crew, was still missing.

Conflicting Reports
The two reports, coming on the heels of one another, were taken in marine circles to mean that the Cordova had abandoned hope of finding the missing life boat. The possibility that the missing boat may be "able to live" in the open sea and eventually be picked up or reach land, however, was considered.

The Canadian Importer, a freighter of 3399 tons, loaded with 2,500,000 feet of lumber, sailed from Vancouver August 9, en route to Melbourne, Australia. She was built in the Coughlin yards in 1919 by the Canadian government, and was on her third trip to Australia. Captain Carl Bisset of Vancouver, was her skipper.

The rescue ship, the Cordova, a freighter, was en route from Honolulu to Portland when, at 2:30 a. m., she received the "S. O. S." sent out by the Canadian Importer.

Rescue Ship Near
The short time necessary for her arrival indicates that the position of the two vessels were close.

The scene of the disaster is given as latitude 39:49 and longitude 126:25, which is about 400 miles off shore from Blunt's reef, near Eureka, where the ill-fated passenger steamer Alaska was ashore on August 6, taking a heavy toll of lives.

As no land of any sort, and no dangerous reefs exist near the scene of the sinking, it was believed today in marine circles that either the shifting of the lumber cargo, a large part of which was reported carried on the decks or else some serious part in the vessel's construction, which under the weight, caused her to spring her plates fore and aft, was the cause of the catastrophe.

The Canadian Importer was a sister ship to the Canadian Exporter, which was wrecked at Willapa Harbor, Wash., a month ago.

Launch Life Boats
Early reports stated that all life boats were launched immediately after the "S. O. S." was reported.

Reports from the United States weather bureau indicate that there was no storm in that part of the Pacific last night. The sea is reported to have been fairly calm, eliminating the possibility of the wreck having been due to a storm.

The rescue ship Cordova is expected to arrive at Astoria August 27, reaching Portland August 28.

With the vessel approaching the coast, it is expected that communication will be established later in the day. She could not be reached by wireless this morning.

Japan Tennis Marvel Defeats Hawkes In Thrilling Battles

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 25.—Japan took a commanding lead in the final Davis cup match with Australia here this afternoon, when Ichiji Kumagae defeated J. B. Hawkes in a bitterly fought contest, at 3-6, 2-6, 8-6, 6-2 and 6-3.

With Shimidzu's morning victory over J. O. Anderson, Kumagae's triumph this afternoon gave Japan a score of 2 to 0 in the five-match series that will decide the challenger of America for the cup.

The third match will be played tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 between Kumagae and Shimidzu and J. O. Anderson and Todd, the only doubles match of the series.

Hawkes won the first set from Kumagae, 6-3. The Australian got away to a poor start, being Maddened Moplahs, committing excesses, killing and burning, are proceeding towards Calcutta, while troops are being rushed to disperse the fanatics.

No actual count of the dead has been attempted as yet, it is said, but from reports reaching military headquarters it is judged that the estimate of 1000 dead is conservative.

Mellon Sounds Death Knell of Medicinal Beer

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—Secretary of the Treasury Mellon today announced that regulations allowing the sale of medicinal beer will not be issued until congress has taken definite action on the anti-beer bill.

Mellon's statement virtually ends the hope that the prescription of beer as medicine will ever be allowed. It is regarded as certain that the anti-beer bill can be pushed through congress within two months and Mellon's statement was taken to mean he proposes to hold up the regulations until that time.

The treasury takes the attitude, Mellon said, that it would be improper to issue the regulations while the bill is pending in the senate.

Senate and Reichstag Must Ratify Document Before
Terms Effective

By CARL D. GROAT
United Press Staff Correspondent
BERLIN, Aug. 25.—The German-American peace treaty was signed here this afternoon at 5 o'clock.

The treaty when ratified will put an end to the state of war which has existed between the United States and Germany since April 6, 1917.

Signatures were affixed to the document by Ellis Dresel, American commissioner, on behalf of the United States and representatives of the German government.

The treaty which was signed today has been under consideration for some time. The terms were to be made public immediately and were said to be substantially those of the Knox-Porter peace resolution.

The treaty will be presented to the Reichstag and the United States senate for ratification.

The preamble of the German-American treaty recites sections of the Knox-Porter resolution.

The body of the treaty accords to Germany the rights and advantages of the resolution, plus the rights guaranteed her by the treaty of Versailles.

The United States, under the treaty, is not bound by the league of nations, nor is it obligated to fulfill certain parts of the Versailles treaty.

America will be represented on the reparations commission.

TRAFFIC OFFICER VICTIM OF SMASH

POMONA, Aug. 25.—Officer Alex B. Chambers of the traffic squad was injured here in an accident which threw him from his motorcycle while he was pursuing a speeding bus on West Second street.

As he was putting on speed to catch up with the fleeing stage a bicycle swerved into his path and in order to avoid hitting the rider, Chambers turned to the center of the street, where the car tracks threw his machine off balance and careened him into an automobile parked on the side of the street. He was taken to the hospital, where it was found that he was severely lacerated about the scalp, face and hands. His injuries, while painful, are not considered serious.

PLAN TOUR FOR INSPECTION OF APHYCUS

ANAHEIM, Aug. 25.—Delegates of the various growers' exchanges, packing houses and associations announce that they are going to motor to the Limoneira ranch at Santa Paula to inspect the apfycus, which is said to have such deadly effect on black scale.

Interest in this insect has been growing since the first reports of its work in Orange county were made by the Farm Bureau. The apfycus multiplies rapidly, according to reports. In one instance a colony was placed on one tree in an orchard, and several weeks later the insects were found several acres away, it was said.

Various contentions have arisen as to whether the use of apfycus will eliminate fumigating. From Santa Paula comes the word that fumigation is unnecessary in combination with apfycus. The Farm Bureau has been more conservative and advised that until more complete data could be obtained within Orange county before fumigation is dropped, even though the black scale seems to have been killed by the apfycus.

All reports, however, are decidedly in favor of the apfycus. An Anaheim grower said that he dispensed with fumigation on 700 acres after using apfycus. It is believed that the insect will save growers thousands of dollars every year.

PLANS CAMPAIGN TO REDUCE LOSSES

The assistance of Santa Ana shippers in cutting down loss and damage to freight is being sought by Thomas A. Murphy, agent of the Southern Pacific company here, who today made a special appeal for proper packing, marking and loading.

Murphy pointed out that loss and damage freight claims, which on Class 1 railroads mounted from $23,346,965 in 1916 to $104,358,930 in 1920, represent absolute economic waste.

"After settlement has been made," he said, "no one is better off than he was before the loss or damage occurred while the country is poorer to the extent of the value of the property destroyed, and the shipper is annoyed at the failure of his goods to reach him in good order."

The Southern Pacific company has inaugurated an intensive campaign among its employees during the month of September to demonstrate what can be done to eliminate loss and damage, and is asking shippers to join in a common effort to reduce this dead loss.

"Carload freight is packed, loaded and braced in the car by the shipper," said Murphy. "The function of the carrier is to transport the car with reasonable dispatch, as directed by the shipper. If the freight is not properly packed, loaded and braced in the car, damage is liable to occur."

"Less than carload freight is packed and marked by the shipper. The carriers are forced to depend largely on the shipper to properly pack and clearly mark freight in compliance with tariff and classification requirements."

"We appeal to shippers to assist us in delivery of freight in good order by assuring themselves that sound shipping containers are being used, that classification requirements for marking are being complied with, and that carload shipments are properly loaded and braced."

"Our Freight Protection department is at the service of shippers and is ready to render any assistance useful in solving these shipping problems."

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 25.—"Spear-mint Bill" Wrigley will probably be the owner of the Los Angeles club of the Pacific Coast league by Monday.

Wrigley today admitted to the United Press by wireless telephone from his palatial home on Santa Catalina island that he was completing negotiations for the purchase of the club from John F. Powers, present owner.

Neither Wrigley nor Powers would announce details of the purchase, nor the cash consideration involved.

The deal will probably be completed by the first of the week, Wrigley intimated.

CAPTURE WATCH DOG; LOOT THE PREMISES

ONTARIO, Aug. 25.—The feeling of security with which Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Burpee have always left their ranch home in Palmetto avenue in charge of their pet dog was sadly shaken when they returned to find Towser securely locked within doors and the house looted.

Included in the loot were a valuable gold watch and chain, a costly lavalliere set in diamonds and other articles of jewelry. It is believed that the thief, fearing to arouse the neighbors, either coaxed or carried the dog within doors and locking the canine in securely proceeded undisturbed at his work. Entrance is thought to have been gained by a pass key.

"Some of the crew and officers jumped when the ship caught fire. I remained on board until we were close to the water, then I jumped, but was caught by the wreckage and pinned down for fifteen minutes. The flaming pieces of the ZR-2 fell about me and I was burned about the head and face. I lost consciousness and when I awoke I was in the hospital."

Norman O. Walker of Commerce, Texas the only American saved, told the United Press today:

"No one will ever have a clear idea of just what happened. I was with two Britishers at the extreme tail of the ZR-2. When the explosion shook the ship and she broke in two, our half fell, tail downward.

Float Toward River

"The three of us clung on and we floated down towards mid-river, almost like a big bird settling on the water. It was almost like having a parachute."

"I looked down and saw the water rushing up at us and when we were about 30 feet from the surface I let go and dropped. I thought I could never come up, but when I did there were tugs and boats already speeding to rescue work. The airship could scarcely have been in the water thirty seconds before they were on the job."

"I feel fine, personally. I smoked a cigarette immediately after they pulled me out."

Thousands were gathered on the river front at dawn today, watching the search for bodies of the victims.

The ZR-2 was now invisible, both halves being completely covered by the tide. Preliminary work of salvage was underway.

All night long search parties worked feverishly lest there should still be someone left alive in the wreckage which showed above the surface.

See Bodies of Dead

Handcuffed by darkness, they succeeded in obtaining the bodies of twelve American dead, which will be sent to the United States. Glimpses of other bodies were had by the rescuers, but they could not be reached.

Among those who watched the rescue work, pitiful figures in the early morning, were the widows of Commander Louis Maxfield of Washington, and William Julius and William Steele, members of the crew, who perished in the greatest tragedy of the air.

Reconstructing statements of eye witnesses, it seems clear that the dirigible first began to buckle ominously about midships as the ship turned over the river, and some air officers today said that she may have encountered a sudden air pocket which cracked the hull by subjecting it to a sudden twist.

"I could hear cries for help but in the general confusion it was difficult to tell where they came from," said one witness.

P. J. Osborne, one of the men engaged in rescue work, said:

"We worked all night but were unable to extricate any bodies.

Tide Hinders Searchers

"Our lamps threw weird shadows inside the half submerged wreckage and often we thought we heard groans or saw something move, but we found no survivors."

"We saw the dead bodies of two men in American uniforms. One hung by its coat, awkwardly, like a ghastly scarecrow. We tried hard to reach them but were unable to, owing to the swelling tide, which washed us away."

FEAR 40 DEAD AS CANADA SHIP SINKS

A radiogram was received by the merchant marine offices this morning from Captain Bissell of the Canadian Importer, who is believed to be among those saved by the steamer Cordova, saying that his ship has been helpless at sea since Friday.

The radiogram did not indicate what caused the trouble but said there was seventeen feet of water in the afterhold and the stoke-holds and engine rooms were flooded.

Captain Bissell said he had been able to receive but could not send wireless messages for several days.

No passengers were aboard the ship. The crew numbered 45.

The crew of the Importer consisted of:

GRAVE QUESTION IS PUT UP TO JERNIGAN; IT IS ABOUT A GOAT

Is a goat a public nuisance? A woman residing on Lacy street has declared it so, and she has registered a complaint with the police department.

A neighbor's goat makes lots of noise, she says, and she wants something done about it.

City Marshal Sam Jernigan was debating today just what course to pursue. The issue may be put up to the city council.

It appears that the problem has got Jernigan's goat. Complaints registered by various residents relative to pets belonging to their neighbors usually put the authorities in an embarrassing position.

"Haven't we got fun," said Constable Jesse Elliott in discussing the situation with the chief this morning.

Gus Tamplis said that Harry Laurie just returned to Santa Ana from Scotland. But it's all wrong, Harry says he's been back six weeks, and "Near a drop left after the first morr-r-ning." Skeptics will find Harry at the Diamond Grill, 112 West Third street. Laurie had left the Pennant Grill before he left for Scotland, now he has purchased the Diamond Grill from Tamplis. Tamplis is going to take a rest. "Work three years, since come out service," said he. "American navy supply ship, U. S. S. West Elders. First American ship into Constantinople and also into Antwerp after armistice. Going to mountains. Fish, perhaps. Shoot little game." By the time Tamplis returns some other restaurant will be ready to take a rest.

After spending almost a month in the county jail awaiting trial on a charge of burglarizing the Parsons store at Talbert, Margaret Vega and Lucy D. Lattar, pretty Spanish girls, were brought into the justice court here to face the felony charge. Dismissed. Today they are being held on a minor charge of vagrancy. Their trial is set for September 2 and 10 o'clock. Both declared that they could prove that they were not vagrants.

A John Doe complaint was issued in the district attorney's office today for the driver of a Ford delivery truck belonging to Blake, Moffitt and Towne, who, according to Conductor Adams of the Pacific Electric, drove his car over the new cement paving on 10th Main street between Sixth and Seventh. The alleged offense occurred about 3:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The driver of the car will be arrested today and brought before City Recorder Heathman.

Attorney H. C. Head is to be the principal speaker at the monthly meeting of the Orange County Bankers' association tonight. His subject will be "Chattel Mortgages and Bill of Sale." The meeting will be held at La Habra.

TEACH SAFETY FIRST TO CHILD

"Instead of 'watch the cat,' why not 'watch the car?'"
"Instead of emphasizing the voracious appetite of the domestic feline by that bit of euphony, 'the cat ate the rat,' why not 'when crossing the street, look to the left?'"
So said E. B. Lefferts, speaker on "safety first," at the luncheon of the Anaheim Rotarians, yesterday. Lefferts is a member of a Los Angeles accident prevention bureau.
Guy J. Gilbert of Santa Ana said today that the speech impressed him.
"This man has a message that means the saving of lives of many children. He told us at the luncheon that the system was in vogue in Detroit schools and was a success. He quoted statistics of decreased child mortality."

CLUB PLANS ACTIVITIES

Born with an enthusiasm that insures big success, immediate development of plans for Christmas charity activities, entertainment of the Shriners in this city next month and holding the big Shrine ceremonial at the Orange county park in October, the Orange County Shrine Club today is among the active clubs of the county. It starts with a charter membership of 217.

Organization was effected last night at the club rooms of the Orange County Motorcycle club in the Grand Opera house building with the election of D. Eymann Huff of El Modena as president, Harry Hanson, Santa Ana, secretary, and F. C. Krause, Fullerton, treasurer.

The president was authorized to appoint seven vice-presidents, one each from seven of the incorporated cities of the county, and four standing committees, auditing, with three members: charity, entertainment and membership, each to have fifteen members.

Constitution and by-laws were adopted, following presentation by a committee composed of Joseph Smith, Walter Wray, Dr. L. L. Whitson, Guy Gilbert, F. C. Krause, J. N. Claves and L. H. Wallace.

The club has a "regular" quartet and the singers favored with a number of selections. Raymond Miles, Ellis Rhodes, Robert Brown and Maurice Phillips comprise the quartet.

Plans for active Christmas charity were discussed and funds raised will be distributed to needy in various parts of the county.

It was definitely decided to invite the divan, chanters, band and patrol of Al Malaikah Temple, Los Angeles, to be guests of the club some time in September.

Arrangements for holding the next ceremonial of the temple at Orange county park were discussed. The "hot sands" men had such a wonderful time at the ceremonial held here last year that they have been keen to have the guests of the Shriners in the county—and they are not going to be disappointed.

In appreciation of the activities of City Marshal Sam Jernigan in developing and handling the ceremonial a year ago, in organization of the club, and for others of his services as Orange county representative of Potentate Cole, a rousing vote of thanks was extended to the marshal.

Organization of a "four-piece jazz band" was placed in the hands of Walter Wray.

It was announced today that all who signed petitions requesting organization of the club will become charter members upon payment of the $2 initiation fee and $1 for dues for the first year.

One hundred and twenty-five nobles were present last night.

Sunday's community church services at Birch park will be the last in which all city churches unite this summer, according to announcement today.

The program for the last service will include special musical features. The sermon will be delivered by the Rev. F. T. Porter of the First Christian church, his subject being "Nature and Christianity."

The regular opening song service will be led by the Rev. S. H. Bailes, assistant pastor of the First Presbyterian church. The services will commence promptly at 6 o'clock.

SHOWING NEW MAN PROBATION ROPES

R. R. Miller, who recently resigned as secretary of the Santa Ana district of the Y. M. C. A. to take the place of Paul E. Wright as the county probation officer, was making the rounds with Wright today so as to familiarize himself with the details of the position. It is understood that Miller will work with Wright until the first of the month when he will take over the task.

Wright has accepted a call to the First Christian church of Ontario and will move to that city with his family immediately upon closing his duties here. Incidentally Wright is offering for sale a choice lot on Laguna Cliffs with a coast line view toward Arch Beach.

COULDN'T SEE IT BUT MYERS DID

Declaring that he had driven an automobile 250,000 miles and that he had never, to his knowledge, violated a traffic rule or been subjected to arrest for any offense, Charles B. Culbertson of Pasadena, wrote Justice of the Peace Cox and asserted that he did not know he violated the traffic law when he turned "Dead Man's Corner" at La Habra on Sunday, August 14.

Culbertson was arrested by Traffic Officer "Shorty" Myers. The officer declares that he was looking directly at Culbertson and his machine when he rounded the corner and that Culbertson disregarded the button.

"I am surprised that any person who has driven 250,000 miles would not know he violated the law when he cut the corner of an intersection," replied Cox. "The trouble with most autoists arises from the fact that they do not try to inform themselves in regard to the rules of the road. Some don't know how to think, and therefore there should be a law denying such people a license to operate a motor car."

"Your fine will be $5. You may send same and this will close the case."

ASKS FOR BIDS FOR ASPHALTIC PAVEMENT

That the board of supervisors is giving some attention to recommendation made at the Fullerton meeting of the Associated Chambers of Commerce in April by the good roads and special committees of the organization was evidenced by information secured today at the office of County Engineer Leslie McBride. One of the recommendations was that asphaltic concrete construction be used in building good roads.

Specifications have been prepared and bids will be opened on September 13 for three and one quarter miles of asphaltic concrete base road at Placentia and approximately six miles of asphaltic surface to be laid on various roads in the third super-visual district.

The asphaltic concrete base is to be put down on North and Corona streets, which form a continuous street, from the concrete pavement on Placentia avenue easterly to Jefferson street. The pavement is to be sixteen feet wide.

A mile of surfacing is to be done on La Mirada avenue, two miles west of La Habra. On the quarter of a mile north of the P. E. tracks crossing La Mirada, the surface will be two inches, with four inches being laid on the three-quarters of a mile south of the tracks.

Two-inch surfacing will be done for one mile on the Brea-Orinda road; two and three quarter miles on Orangeflower avenue; one mile on Euclid and half a mile on Broadway, the two latter streets being west of Anaheim.

Discussing the merits of asphaltic concrete, some times referred to as black base pavement, P. L. Chattock, salesman for the Standard Oil company, today stated the impression that some people seem to have that this type of construction is short-lived is erroneous.

As a concrete example of the service given by asphalt concrete he cited the main street of Visalia. According to his statement, a six-inch asphaltic concrete pavement was put down there in 1891, thirty years ago. It has been subject to heavy traffic and high temperature. It is in good condition today and he asserts that City Engineer L. H. Gadsby of Visalia states that no money has been spent in maintenance.

Asphaltic concrete pavement is being successfully used in San Mateo, Yuba, Imperial and other counties, according to Chattock's statement. The State Highway commission has designated this type of pavement for ten miles of work on the road between Holtville and Yuma, says Chattock.

Coming nearer home, Chattock points to the road between Brea and La Habra, which is asphaltic. It is five inches and was laid in two courses on various types of soil. He declares that the maintenance costs have been nominal.

PRACTICAL NOTES ON S. S. LESSON

By Cal. Ogburn

Lesson for August 28: Acts 16: 6-28.
From Asia to Europe.

"Forbidden by the Holy Spirit to speak the word in Asia. . . . And when they assayed to go into Bithynia, the Spirit of Jesus suffered them not."—Vs. 6, 7.

The road to "Big Success" is paved with equal parts of great effort and large failure—and every successful man lays his own paving as he goes.
Paul made the effort "to speak the word in Asia," but the effort failed.
Next he "assayed to go into Bithynia." Failure again! Then Paul, Silas and Timothy held a counsel, the result of which was that Paul went back to his trade of tent-making, while Silas and Timothy started to the nearest public employment office to see if they could get on with a "pick-n-shovel" building a road for the government! The road to "Big Failure" is paved with equal parts of little effort and small success—and every man lays his own paving. By not being permitted to go into Asia or to turn aside into Bithynia, instead of getting discouraged and grouchy and "quitting the job," Paul correctly reasoned that their course lay straight ahead through Mysia, where, in the "Land of Somewhere," wherever that might be, their efforts at preaching the gospel—the one thing they started out determined to do—would be crowned with great success. There are several ways of getting a practical,
"workable" knowledge. But the best of all is that of experience. Usually there must be a diligent, persistent endeavor to execute a well-laid plan before one can know whether it is feasible or not. Then when confronted by a will stronger than one's own, by obstacles that are insurmountable, and so it is learned that the plan cannot be carried out, this is the teaching of experience, and one may learn if he will that he is nearer the goal of his efforts than ever before. This was Paul's situation. It was his unalterable purpose to preach the gospel of Jesus Christ in the regions beyond, but his plan had frequently to be modified. Paul had intended to go into Bithynia, but this privilege was denied him by the Holy Spirit—a power beyond his control, though he might have had his way for the time being, just as at a later date he heeded not the warning of the Holy Spirit, through Agabus and other prophets, not to go to Jerusalem. Disregarding the warning, he went to Jerusalem, just as he had planned, and paid the penalty by a long imprisonment. He might have acted similarly at this time. Don't try to overmaster the omnipotent or outwit the omniscient, in your determination to have your way in seeking a certain goal. You will be more than foolish if you do.
To attain the highest success, work with God and never against him. If you are forbidden by the Holy Spirit to go into "Bithynia," cheerfully acquiesce. You have learned that your work does not lie in that direction.
You are—or ought to be—wiser by that much as to the course you should pursue, and grateful accordingly to a kind Providence. Your purpose need not be altered, but your plan should be changed. Try "Asia."

"When he had seen the vision, straightway we sought to go forth into Macedonia."—Verse 10. A few people—the number never is great—have visions for themselves and for others. This is so because the vast majority are content to "just plod along." There is a great difference between seeing visions and being visionary. But without either of these to break the dull monotony of eking out a mere existence, most people crowd and jostle one another on the highway of life from the cradle to the grave. Where there is one original thinker—one who has a vision of a new, practical, and better way—there are a thousand who do not think at all. And this is not so much because they can not as that they will not think. Most people prefer ease, and it is hard work to think purposefully. Visions only come to those who endeavor their coming by persistent endeavor to get out of the beaten highway or out of a rut.
The world's greatest debt is to men of vision. Without these there is no progress. "When he had seen the vision, straightway we sought to go into Macedonia." Next to the man of vision, blessed is he who has the good sense to follow the leadership of such a man. And, furthermore, blessed is the man of vision who can command a following of men of practical business ability. There should be no jealousy on the part of either. Mutually dependent, their interests are the same, their success one. It would have saved Paul and his companions much needless anxiety if Paul's vision had come to him before they started on their second missionary tour—but such visions do not come to any till, by hard, patient, persistent effort, men have proved themselves worthy and capable to receive and act upon them. Almost any vision may be counted merely visionary till it has been consecrated by prior fatiguing labor of mind and of body. Perhaps there is no way so good of judging visions and vagaries of the mind as WORK.

"We sat down and spake to the women that were come together."
—Verse 13. Paul's "man of Macedonia" who stood beseeching him, and saying, "Come over into Macedonia and help us," proved to be a few women at a prayer meeting by a river side!
The man of vision must accustom himself to disappointments or fail utterly. Between anticipation and realization there stretches a long, winding road. When in the dreary valley it is hard to believe that one had a glorious view of mountain and forest from some hilltop long since left behind on the road to it. It takes courage of the heroic kind to be true at all times to the best that one has visioned. The "man of Macedonia," after all, was no ignis fatuus, as the results of Paul's labors in Europe proved. His preaching of the gospel there was the entering wedge for the evangelization not only of all Europe, but of a then undiscovered New World, for not only
"westward did the course of empire take its way," but of worldwide Christianization as well. The lesson is on the surface: Be true to your best vision.

HARBOUGH'S WIFE COMING BY AUTO

Definite word that Mrs. W. L. Harbough, wife of the "lost memory man" who is being held in the county jail, is on her way here from her home in San Jose, has been received by the local authorities. She is traveling by auto and is accompanied by Otto Harbough, a brother of the aphasic victim.

Mrs. Harbough has been reported as being on her way here since last Sunday, but it appears now that there was some misunderstanding as to the time that she got started. E.
Stevens, proprietor of the Missouri garage at Long Beach, the man who identified Harbough, said today that he had received a telegram from Mrs. Harbough stating that she was on her way.

The aphasic still is in a dazed condition. He could not recall his own name or account for his presence in this part of the state when he was picked up at Oceanside last Friday morning by a state parole officer.

DINGLE'S HEARING COMES TOMORROW

A. C. Dingle, of Anaheim, recently found guilty of driving his automobile while intoxicated, is scheduled to appear before Superior Judge Z.
B. West at 9:30 o'clock tomorrow morning for judgment on his application for probation and probable sentence.

for the past two weeks. Last Friday several of his friends testified as to his character, etc. Deputy District Attorney C. N. Mozley told the court that he could produce one or more witnesses who had seen Dingle in a drunken condition since his trial, and Judge West continued the case until the coming Friday to allow the district attorney's office to produce the witness.

Judge West intimated that probation would be denied Dingle.

STEEL CORPORATION TO MEET PRICE CUT

CHARGED WITH ATTEMPTING TO STEAL TIRE

C. T. Chambers, 26, and W. C.
Dowdy, 21, arrested last night by Officer Joe Ryan, who claims that they were attempting to steal an extra automobile tire from the rear of a machine belonging to A. G. Finley, were scheduled to be arraigned before Justice of the Peace Cox this afternoon on a charge of grand larceny.

According to Ryan, the two men drove up beside Finley's car, which was parked on East Third street between Spurgeon and French. He says he came upon them while they were in the act of stripping the tire from the rear of Finley's machine.

The machine in which the pair were traveling bore Arizona license No. 15978. Chambers said that he came from Oklahoma and Dowdy said he was a native of Texas. They have been in Orange county for about two months, according to their own statements, and have been working on the C. C. Chapman ranch near Fullerton.

Under Sheriff E. E. French and Deputy Sheriff Roy Ballard today arrested Juan Haro, Mexican, of the Delhi district, on a charge of stealing two auto tires valued at $30 and belonging to W. B. Alexander, 821 West Fifth street.

Ballard made a second trip to Delhi to search for tires that Haro is said to have thrown away when he heard he was being trailed by the authorities.

The Mexican is scheduled to be arraigned before Justice of the Peace Cox this afternoon.

PENNSY CONTINUES OPEN SHOP BATTLE

CHICAGO, Aug. 25.—Again challenging the right of the United States railroad labor board to dictate the policy governing the road's dealings with its employees, the Pennsylvania railway, through application asking the board to set aside its recent decision in the federated shop crafts case, has renewed its fight for the open shop.

The decision, which it is sought to reverse, held that employees, in selecting representatives to deal with road officials in all matters of dispute, should be given opportunity to vote for individuals or organizations —union or nonunion.

POMONA COUNCIL TURNS DOWN BIDS

POMONA, Aug. 25.—Rejecting the three bids on the Garfield park comfort station, which they characterized as too high, the city council instructed the city engineer to alter the plans and readvertise.

The city attorney was instructed to draw up an ordinance regulating the labeling of the milk bottles which would require that each bottle of milk sold in the city should be labelled with the name of the dairy, city in which dairy is located, raw or pasteurized milk, grade of milk and day of the week.

The council also voted to have the city attorney draft an ordinance redating the street bonds to September 1, 1921, and raising the rate of interest from 5 to 5½ per cent.

Exclusive Hats at Low Prices

OUR FALL Millinery Stock now presents an opportunity for a first hand study of the new styles. These hats have been selected in the past two weeks from the display of America's master designers. There is no question about the modes or materials in these hats, but perhaps the most interesting thing about them just now is the price. Our method of buying and making and our inclination to make them reasonable in price opens the way for you to buy your new fall hat at the lowest price you have seen in years. We advise an early selection.

Cupid Holds Honors In Usual Way At "Hearts"

"When hearts are trumps, 'tis Love that wins the game" was proven last night at the Henry Grochow home on Walnut street, when Miss Josephine Grochow was hostess at a "hearts" party in honor of her twenty-first birthday.

The game of the evening was particularly well chosen for at the conclusion of the series and when refreshments were served, it developed that the game of hearts had, as usual, gone to Dan Cupid, for concealed in tiny, heart-shaped envelopes tucked in the yellow baskets holding candy and nuts, the guests found the announcement of the approaching marriage of Miss Grochow to Andrew Lykke, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Lykke, of this city.

So the little bride-to-be was showered with expressions of love and good wishes in addition to the many pretty gifts which the guests had brought in honor of her birthday.

While the high honors in the game of hearts were conceded to Cupid, the prizes provided by the hostess were awarded to Miss Henrietta Lykke and Mrs. Fred Drake.

The flowers which were used in such profusion were asters in the lovely fall colorings, with yellow predominating, as yellow was the color note of the decorations and the refreshments.

The birthday cake which was brought in, gleaming with twenty-one yellow candles, was cut and served by the young hostess, together with ices and little cakes, all in the predominating yellow which is the own color of Miss Grochow with her mass of hair, reflecting all the sunshine of the Southland.

Miss Grochow has been connected with The Register in the business office for about two years, while Mr. Lykke is one of the members of the firm of the Santa Ana Cabinet company. The young people have not announced the date of their approaching wedding except that it will be sometime in September.

The guests last night included Mr. and Mrs. Henry Grochow, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Drake, Mrs. Satterlund of San Diego, Mrs. Ole Gradin, Misses Teresa McDonough, Tess Knapp, Helena Lieberman, Henrietta Lykke, Elsie Williams, Ruffina Grochow, Nora Lykke, Lillian Lykke, Louise Grochow and Messrs. Leonard Gradin, Carl Edgar, Tom Souder, Joe Lieberman, Billy Penn, Leo Schmiedeburg, William Nielson, Andrew Lykke and Lawrence Grochow.

Plans to Resume Secretarial Duties

The many friends of Miss Helen Phillips are delighted at the splendid recovery she is making from the severe operation which she recently underwent at the Community hospital. Miss Phillips has been home for a week now and has reached a stage in her recovery where she is able to be out of doors for awhile each day.

She plans an early resumption of her duties as secretary to the principal of the Santa Ana high school, and after the opening of the fall term of school, September 12, will be at the principal's office during the regular office hours each day. Prior to that time, she plans to be in the office for a short period each day.

The Patchwork Quilt HAVE YOU A PIECE TO PUT IN IT?

By ELEANOR ELLIOTT.

She was such a cunning little yellow-haired girl, and as she sat at the restaurant table perched sedately in the high chair, her arms held a yellow-haired dolly very nearly as big as its little mother.

Sooner or later, every eye in the restaurant was on her, but all unconscious of the fact that she was the center of attention, she carefully held a napkin around her child's neck and lifted every spoonful to the painted red lips before taking it to her own little scarlet mouth.

And a glance around the crowded room revealed that the little child had softened every face there. The sad-looking little music teacher who drops down at her table all alone, wore the brightest face we had seen her wear for many a long day; the man at the bank who looks like his diet might be columns of figures instead of real food, shed his arithmetical look as though by magic, and looked really human, while the two little stenographers who wore much too rouge and an elaborate hair dressing more suitable for a ball-room than for a business office, miraculously shed their sophisticated air and became natural young girls, smiling with each other at the unconscious charm of a little child.

Do you know that by simply making the request to Doubleday Page and Co. they will send you an attractive little booklet descriptive of the life and work of Enos A. Mills, the nature guide and author.

The booklet contains only seventeen pages, but each one is full of interesting things, among them being an account of the meeting between Mills and John Muir, the "Grand Old Man of the Mountains," and the friendship between the two, which would naturally follow a meeting between two such nature lovers.

The booklet gives one of the most comprehensive pictures imaginable of Mills and will be welcomed by all his admirers.

"THE LADS"
I always hae a smile when Tam goes swingin' doon the lane,
For Tam is braw and bonny though it's not my lad is he;
And though I always tell him he'll ne'er hae me for his ain,
I always hae a smile for him, because he smiles at me.

I always hae a merry word when Jamie calls to me,
I wore my Sunday tucker and went wi' him to the fair,
We danced together on the green, sae merry and sae free,
He bought a bonny ribbon and I twined it in my hair.

Oh, Jamie's gay and Tam is braw, and neither is too bold,
And I am young and laughing, and I like their spirit gay,
And yet their gallant wooin' leaves me all untouched and cold,

But when I meet wi' Sandy, then I look theither way.

Our family is delighted when an "Apple Betty" appears on the menu. Do you suppose yours would be?

When we make it, we arrange a generous mound of peeled and sliced apples in a large baking dish and over this we put a batter made by rubbing one and one-half tablespoons of butter or lard into one and one-half cups of flour carefully sifted with two teaspoons of baking powder and a pinch of salt, and enough cold water to form the batter.

This is baked in a quick oven until the apples are considered done and the crust is a delicate brown, when it is turned out, upside down on a big chop plate and well sprinkled with sugar and cinnamon.

Cut into wedges, we serve it with a lemon sauce made by rubbing together one tablespoon of butter, three of sugar and one teaspoon of flour. Mix with boiling water and flavor either with lemon extract or lemon juice.

High Noon Wedding Is Culmination Of Romance

High noon was the time chosen by Miss Edith G. Cook for her wedding to Albert P. Hart, which occurred yesterday at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Cook, 812 South Main street.

The home was transformed into a bower of flowers, which accented the notes of pink and white used in the decorations, and formed a charming background for the wedding service which was read by the Rev. Otto S. Russell of the First Baptist church.

The bride, in her gown of soft white crepe meteor beaded with silver, and carrying a shower of white sweet peas and maidenhair fern, was at her loveliest. She was given by her father in marriage to the groom, and immediately following the ceremony, which pronounced them man and wife, the young couple led the way into the dining-room, where a delightful luncheon was served.

Soon after luncheon, the bride slipped away, to reappear gowned for traveling in a dark brown tailored suit with accessories to harmonize. The happy young couple left at once for Catalina, where they will spend the honeymoon.

The pretty wedding was the culmination of a romance which had its beginning when Miss Cook entered the offices of the Campbell and

Thompson Printing company in the capacity of bookkeeper, a year and a half ago. Mr. Hart was connected with the same firm and the companionship resulting was followed by the wedding of yesterday.

The bride came to California from Michigan with her parents three years ago, when her father joined the sales force of the Rock Bottom stores. Mr. Hart is a Texan, but has been living in California for some years.

Upon their return, Mr. and Mrs. Hart will be at home to their friends at 704 South Main street.

The furnishings in one room of the New York home of the late Henry C. Frick have been appraised at $1,441,000. This valuation includes the famous Fragonard panels.

HUNDREDS WILL SEE AUTO SHOW AT ANAHEIM

Street decorations for the automobile street show at Anaheim tomorrow will be placed in position today, and dealers throughout the country were making plans for exhibiting cars at the big display. It is expected that eighty or ninety machines will be parked on the street for inspection of the hundreds of Orange county residents who will throng the "Mother colony" tomorrow afternoon and evening.

The exhibit is to be under the auspices of the Orange County Automobile Trades association, and it is said that the dealers are 100 per cent in co-operating in the show.

It is understood that some dealers will display all models of the lines they carry.

The show will be held on Center street, between Los Angeles and Lemon streets. The block will be closed to traffic. The cars will be in position soon after the lunch hour and the display will be officially opened around 2 o'clock.

In the evening the Orange County Automobile Trades association band will give a half hour concert, starting at 7 o'clock. From 7:30 to 9:30 inspection of the display will be made. At the latter hour street dancing will be in order, with the band playing.

Dealers have been greatly impressed with the idea of giving frequent street exhibits and this method may replace the policy of the association of holding an annual show.

PLAN ALL DAY SESSION

The North and South sections of the Ladies Aid society of the First Methodist church, are planning an all day session for tomorrow at the home of Mrs. Matthews, 2409 North Main street.

The members are asked to come prepared to add to the picnic dinner which will be served at noon.

THE SOCIAL MIRROR

Santa Ana Guests Held By Arizona Storms

The floods in Central Arizona, with their accompanying washouts of railroad lines, have delayed the departure for Sonora, Mexico, of Mrs. Ernest J. Stanley and two small daughters, Florence and Martha, who have been spending the summer with Mrs. Stanley's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Taylor, 521 South Sycamore street.

While prevented from carrying out her plans for returning to her Mexican home, Mrs. Stanley has not been shut off from telephonic communication with her husband in Sonora, so that any uneasiness he may have felt as to his family's welfare, has been allayed. Mrs. Stanley will not attempt to make the trip until conditions en route become normal once more.

Owner of Lovely Voice Arrives in Santa Ana For Visit

The fact that Santa Ana has in her midst one of the leading soprano singers of Kansas City is fact for congratulation among music lovers, who hope that they may be given the opportunity to hear the golden notes of Miss Madeline Farley's voice during her visit with her aunts, Mrs. J. R. Paine and Miss Elizabeth Easton, of 1818 North Main street.

Miss Farley and her sister, Miss Catherine Farley, arrived only yesterday and will be the guests of their cousins for an extended visit. Miss Madeline is soprano soloist at St. Vincent's in Kansas City, and is noted for the range and sweetness of her voice. The family is a musical one, for Miss Elizabeth Easton has always been prominent in musical circles in this city, where her lovely voice has been in demand on all occasions where singing had a part on the program.

Fresno Normal School's Ai Fresco Classes Delights Santa Anan

Decidedly benefitted by the vacation trip which she took to Huntington Lake in the High Sierras, Miss Elizabeth Phillips is once more on duty part of each day at the office of the school board in the Spurgeon building. After Monday, August 29, she will observe her usual office hours there.

Miss Phillips joined Mr. and Mrs. Emory Ratcliff at Huntington Lake where the sessions of the Fresno Teachers' College (formerly the Fresno Normal school), are conducted in the open air and in natural classrooms in the midst of the pine and spruce forests.

Mrs. Ratcliff is dean of women at the school, while Professor Ratcliff conducts classes in sociology, civics and school law. Miss Phillips gives a most interesting account of the activities of the school where she varied her vacation program by taking a little special work in classes of modern books and sociology. She states that a class conducted amidst towering trees and with the little creatures of the wild hurrying about the affairs of their daily life is one of the most interesting experiences imaginable.

Huntington Lake, itself, she found full of interest as it is the scene of operations on a huge scale by the Southern California Edison company. The lake is entirely artificial, being formed by damming the waters of the mountain streams, and the untouched forests of pine and spruce sweep to its very verge. The Edison company plans an expenditure of $200,000,000 on the project which cannot be completed for a period of fifteen years or more.

With the close of the Normal school, the pupils of the Shakespeare class presented "A Midsummer Night's Dream" in a natural amphitheater near the banks of the lake.

Pittsburgh Musician Guest of Friends

Miss Arline Birchard has been entertaining for a few days her friend, Miss Edith Bane, of Pittsburgh, who has been spending the summer months on a tour of Alaska and the coast states.

Miss Bane is one of the prominent teachers of music in Pittsburgh, and at the time of Miss Birchard's study under the late William H. Sherwood in Chicago, was his principal assistant.

During her summer vacation from the routine of teaching Miss Bane has visited all the principal scenes of interest in the coast states, including Rainier national park, the Yosemite, the Shasta country, as well as the cities, in addition to her Alaskan experiences.

Her stay in Santa Ana has been too brief to allow of much entertainment on the part of her hostess, although Miss Birchard entertained at a small dinner at St. Ann's on Tuesday evening, when Miss Robbie Jones was present in addition to the guest of honor.

Open Laguna Cottage For Guests

The pleasant Edwards cottage at Laguna beach is the scene this week of a merry family party in honor of the presence in this city of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Edwards and their two children, who recently arrived from Weaverville for a visit with Mr. Edwards' mother, Mrs. Margaret Edwards, 202 East Ninth street.

Among those who are enjoying the seaside home are the hostess, Mrs. Margaret Edwards, the Weaverville guests and their sister, Miss Katherine Edwards.

It was an unusually beautiful performance and very well given. Miss Margaret Ratcliff, the little daughter of Professor and Mrs. Ratcliff, took the part of the "Changeling Boy" and did it charmingly.

Miss Phillips returned to Santa Ana by way of the Ridge route, in company with the Ratcliffs who are located at their orange grove home near Whittier for a short space of time.

Deer Hunters Leave For Inyo County

The deer of the Little Lake region in Inyo county will have to "watch their step" pretty carefully following the arrival in that section of the country of a hunting party composed of W. W. Perkins and sons, Archie and Arthur Perkins, of Santa Ana, and M. R. Thompson, of Los Angeles, who left this morning with the avowed intention of bagging the limit.

The same group of men were members of a similar party during the deer season last year, when, in all, seventeen deer were shot. The spot which the hunters have chosen as a coming ground is near the one of last season and is at an altitude of 9000 feet.

During the absence of the party, Mrs. Perkins is entertaining her nephew, Ray Anderson, of Tulsa, Oklahoma. They will leave Friday for a short visit with Mrs. Perkins' sister, Mrs. J. E. Liebig, who is at Loma Linda sanatorium for a period of a few weeks.

Receives Word from European Traveler

Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Northcross, who have been residing at 513 South Sycamore street, are anticipating an early occupancy of the home they recently purchased at 1318 Spurgeon street.

Mrs. Northcross is in receipt of a card from Miss Lella Watson, head of the French department of Santa Ana Junior college, saying that she plans to sail for this country in plenty of time to be in Santa Ana for the opening of the fall term of school.

Miss Watson left soon after vacation opened in June, for a tour of the continent, and stated on her card to Mrs. Northcross that she has been located for some time past in a pleasant little village near Paris, where she has found many delightful and congenial friends.

Past Matron's Association Order Eastern Star

Gathering last night in Birch park, members of the Past Matron's association of Hermosa chapter, O. E. S., held a most delightful picnic at which the honored guests were their husbands.

"A twilight picnic," was the name aptly chosen for the happy affair, and one of the members quoted, "The groves were God's first temple," saying that the very fact of an outdoor setting always seemed to add to the pleasures of such an occasion.

In planning for the picnic supper, each one of the past matrons, was asked to bring the dish, in the preparation of which, she most excelled. The result was one of the most delicious meals that those fortunate enough to be present had ever tasted, and was fittingly ended with quantities of ice-cream served by "Picnic Dad" or to be more formal, Prince L. Tople, whose jolly "Have some more" met with hearty acceptance.

The special guests of the evening were the worthy matron, Mrs. J. V. McCormac and the associate matron, Mrs. W. A. Cornelius, who with their respective husbands, John Wesley McCormac and Walter A. Cornelius, were given seats of honor.

Other guests included: Mayor John G. Mitchell and Mrs. Mitchell, Judge William H. Thomas and Mrs. Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Pease, Mr. and Mrs. Prince L. Tople, Mr. and Mrs. George Huntington, Mr. and Mrs. Max Reinhaus, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Kellogg, Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Hammond, Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Palmer, Mr. and Mrs. M. Whitson, Mrs. C. B. Cavins, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Avery, Mr. and Mrs. H. Henderson, Mr. Julius Reinhaus, the Misses Martha Whitson, Pauline Reinhaus and Hazel Huntington.

A pleasing feature of the evening was the reading of a poem sent from the Sequoia National park by Mrs. Frank True who with Mr. True is now vacationing in that wonderful. The verses are dedicated to the patriarch of the forest and are the result of the inspiration received by Mrs. True as she gazed at its magnificent proportions.

"East, West, Home's Best"

Mrs. True as she gazed at its magnificence the summer touring the states of the Middle West in company with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. McFarren, has returned to join her sisters here, the Misses Vivian and Zalda McFarren, who have remained at their Orange street home while their parents and sister went vacationing.

Visits were made at different points in Pennsylvania, Michigan, Iowa and Nebraska, and at present Mr. and Mrs. McFarren are at the home of their daughter, Mrs. John B. Cluley of Dillon, Montana, from where they plan to go to Pocatello, Idaho, to spend a few weeks with another daughter, Mrs. George B. Crawford before returning to Santa Ana.

Homesickness for Sunkist California, induced Miss Gail to break the routine of the trip and return to Santa Ana in advance of her parents, for as she says, "The east for those that like it, but California for me."

Getting Ready for Fall School Term to Open

PREPARING FOR INCREASES AT HIGH SCHOOL

With the opening of Santa Ana public schools less than three weeks off, preparations were under way today to take care of the big crowd of students expected this year.

At the Santa Ana High school was this particularly true. Nearly 1500 copies of the Polytechnic Manual, a descriptive booklet, were delivered to Principal D. K. Hammond ready to go into at least 1000 Santa Ana homes.

Teachers for the coming year have been assigned and their courses arranged.

The high school is ready for the influx of old and new students that promises to break all past records and to prove beyond the shadow of a doubt that the city is still rapidly growing.

The Polytechnic Manual is more complete this year than ever before and contains valuable information for all prospective students.

The school calendar is printed, there is a list of the teachers, and an outline of all courses to be offered during the year, the student body constitution and school songs and yells are included.

Principal Hammond announced today that registration of all students would commence on Tuesday, September 6, the first day after Labor Day. Seniors enroll September 6, juniors September 7, sophomores on September 8 and freshmen on September 9. On each of the registration days, those whose last names commence with letters from L to Z enroll in the forenoon and those from A to I in the afternoon.

School starts September 12. Period schedules for the coming year are as follows:

1-8 to 9; 2-9:05 to 10:05; 3-10:10 to 11:10; 4-11:15 to 12:15; Lunch, 40 minutes. 5-12:55 to 1:55; 6-2:00 to 3:00.

Heads of departments of the high school have outlined briefly each course that is to be given this year in their section. Method of presentation, the instructors and the textbooks to be used are included.

Principal Hammond said today that text-books to students would be given out at Sam Stein's store again this year. All English books, however, will be released from the high school office.

POLICE SEEKING NEW SUSPECTS IN SLAYING

United Press Leased Wire

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 25.—Investigations admittedly under way by the Sacramento police and the sheriff's office may lead to additional arrests soon in the case of William Hightower, held for the murder of Father Patrick Heslin, murdered Colma priest.

While officials refused early today to give out definite information, they said the "matter was developing."

"Two women, one said to answer the description of the 'Dolly Mason' whom Hightower described at the time the body was found, and three men were reported to be under suspicion."

It was understood that the theory being followed is that Hightower was a tool of these five persons, and as such, wrote the note demanding the ransom of Father Heslin after he was kidnapped.

One member of the group, it was said, was a woman who once was charged with complicity in a murder in Lawton, Okla. Another was said to be known in Salt Lake.

"DREAM GIRL" READY TO HELP HIGHTOWER

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 25.—"If the man who wrote me the 'dream girl' letters is sincere, he is incapable of having murdered that priest, I am willing to go on the stand to disclose the contents of certain letters I have destroyed which will further establish the apparent good character of the man."

Mrs. Peggy True Curtis, "dream girl" in William A. Hightower's letters and poetry, made this statement today. She believes in Hightower, but not too implicitly. Her plays first attracted the man accused of murdering Father Heslin. Then it was her illness two years ago, and her forsaking of her career for her husband that prompted Hightower to write her, she said.

"Inspiring Letters"
"He wrote me to encourage me. His letters were inspiring. They did help me, and at a time when I was thoroughly disillusioned and apathetic," she told a reporter in Sacramento today.

"His poetry, oh, it mediocre and weak, but his letters are eloquent and beautiful," she said.

"I will help him if I can, just as he helped me when I was down and out. I have never seen Hightower. Of course, the man may be superhuman, but there may be a weak spot in his nature that prompts him to believe he should aid the stricken. And, too, these letters he wrote me could be part of a gigantic scheme of a master mind to establish before the world a wholesome character, a man of admirable ideals. Perhaps he is now calling upon the evidences of character for that purpose. I will not say this is other than a remote possibility," she continued.

"If Hightower is guilty he will confess. I do not think he is the kind of man who would go to the gallows without telling everything he knows. He would not sacrifice himself for another."

"If he is guilty he shatters another ideal of mine."
The "dream girl" promises to write a play of the case and she expressed her hope that Hightower is innocent for she believes his guilt would weaken the drama's plot.

She is at present working in a local department store, where she says she is seeking color for uplift plays.

VETERAN HUNTERS READY FOR CAMP

In pursuit of deer and other game, A. J. Crookshank, Judge Z. B. West, F. E. Farnsworth and Lew H. Wallace are anxiously awaiting starting time for their two weeks' hunting trip in the northern part of the state. They will leave Santa Ana Saturday morning and expect to be back about September 10.

The four are veteran hunters and have made trips after deer for many summers. They will go by machines to the eastern part of Tehama county in the Sierra Nevada mountains, packing in a distance of about sixty miles from Red Bluff.

The hunting in the eastern section of Tehama county is said to be very good and the men all expect to get their limit of deer.

CITY'S NEW SCHOOL ON W. FOURTH STREET IS FRANKLIN SCHOOL

FRANKLIN SCHOOL

That is how Santa Ana's new grammar school at the corner of West Fourth and Forest avenue is to be officially known hereafter.

The school was named at a meeting of the board of education last night and is in keeping with the custom of naming the city educational institutions after personages famous in American history.

There were other names considered last night, but the board was unanimous in believing that Franklin was the most suitable suggested.

The other principal elementary schools here are Washington, Jefferson, Roosevelt, Lincoln and McKinley, named after presidents, and Spurgeon, named after W. H. Spurgeon, "the father of Santa Ana."

RESIGNING FROM SCHOOL BOARD TO TEACH

A. B. Gardner has resigned as a member of the Santa Ana board of education.

He has been appointed as a member of the Santa Ana high school faculty, to teach history and civics.

Gardner is returning to his old love—school teaching.

He was trained for school teaching and ever since he left the profession years ago he has had at times a longing to return to it or to some other occupation along that line.

After leaving the Santa Ana high school faculty in 1903, Gardner became manager of the Pendleton Lumber company of this city. This company sold its business several years ago.

Two years ago last April he was elected a member of the Santa Ana school board, upon which he has been active.

In order to accept a position as a member of the faculty, it was necessary for him to resign from the school board. His resignation was accepted last night, and he was then appointed to a position on the high school faculty.

GARDEN GROVE TO WATCH CANNING

Fruit and vegetable canning demonstrations, under the auspices of the Farm bureau, will be given by Prof. G. E. Parker and Mrs. Morrow in the domestic science room of the Garden Grove school tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. The exhibition is free and women are urged to attend.

Thirty-five women were present yesterday, Parker said, when the demonstration was given at Fullerton. He said:

"Canning methods always are of interest to women. We use the housewife's own fruit or vegetables if she so desires. Save her a little trouble."

Tired and Nervous—from the Lack of Sleep? Do You Know the Reason Why?

Sleep time is the time when the reconstructive processes in your body are busiest—turning food into blood, and nerve tissue, and living cells.

That's the reason why lack of sleep makes you irritable, inefficient and nervous; and why you lack "punch" when you don't get a proper amount of the right kind of sleep.

It has been the experience of many that the cup of tea or coffee, taken at meal-time, robs them of sleep.

In Gould and Pyle's Cyclo-pedia of Medicine and Surgery you'll find that "caffeine is a rapidly acting stimulant to the brain and spinal cord, quickens the action of the heart, and raises blood pressure."

This makes it a very good medicine if prescribed by a doctor for cases of collapse, when a patient needs to have his system abnormally forced into activity. But caffeine is not good for people whose systems don't need to be drugged.

So if you don't get your proper sleep at night, it may be because you are being kept awake by tea or coffee.

Stop tea and coffee for awhile and drink Postum—the delicious cereal beverage.

Postum is a pure cereal product, and contains no harmful element whatsoever. Your first taste of Postum will surprise and please you. Many people prefer the flavor of Postum to that of coffee.

Order Postum from your grocer today. Drink this hot, refreshing beverage in place of tea or coffee for ten days, and see what a wonderful difference it will make in the way you feel.

Postum comes in two forms: Instant Postum (in tins) made instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in packages of larger bulk, for those who prefer to make the drink while the meal is being prepared) made by boiling for 20 minutes.

HIS DAD KILLED IN WRECK, BOY WIRES HOME

"Dad killed. What shall I do?" This heart-breaking message arrived at a La Habra home yesterday afternoon.

William Redfern, well known rancher at La Habra, was killed in a wreck on the Denver and Rio Grande railroad at Gale, near Grand Junction, Colo., yesterday, and his son, Donald, aged 15, had an arm broken. Redfern was one of two men killed in the wreck and the boy was one of about fifty who were injured. Redfern and his son were on their way home from an eastern trip when the wreck occurred.

"Dad killed. What shall I do?" The telegram came from Donald to his mother at La Habra. A later message brought word from the boy to the effect that he had an arm broken. He was instructed to have the body brought on to La Habra.

Redfern was a resident at La Habra for a number of years and was well known and highly respected in his community. For a time he operated a garage at La Habra.

ASKING RESIDENTS TO LIST RENTALS

J. C. Metzgar, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, was out today with an S. O. S. call.

Metzgar wants local residents having housekeeping rooms, apartments and cottages, furnished or unfurnished, to list them at the Chamber of Commerce.

"The rush is on, and we are besieged daily for accommodations for people who want to spend the winter in Santa Ana," said Metzgar today. "We are turning newcomers away every day. Modern priced accommodations are the most in demand."

"Residents having rooms which they can convert into light housekeeping apartments should do so at once. Many did this last year and helped wonderfully in meeting the demand. Others should follow suit and help out in the present pressure."

SEVENTY-FIVE CENTS IS PRICE TO BE PAID FOR PICKING WALNUTS

With walnut growers associations the scheduled price for picking walnuts today was established at 75c per sewed sack for this season. A barley sack is the regulation sack under the schedule.

The harvesting of Orange county's big walnut crop is now at hand and in order that a uniform price for picking may obtain among all the associations of the county, representatives of various associations met at Anaheim and agreed to pay the 75-cent rate. The rate last year was $1.

Walnut harvesting is now on in a small way and will be in full swing in the next week or ten days, according to growers.

One grower called yesterday at the packing house of the Santa Ana Walnut Growers association and took away sacks for picking. He declared that he already had gathered three or four sacks, and that he was expecting to get busy at once in gathering his crop.

It is expected that the local packing houses will begin operations about the middle of September.

SMALL BLAZE IS QUICKLY PUT OUT

An unusually large number of fire fans followed the fire truck east on Fourth street about 9 o'clock last night when a small blaze broke out at the rear of the home of H. V. Schoepf, 819 East Fourth street.

According to Fire Chief Luxembourg, the damage was trifling. A small quantity of corn fodder and goat feed was destroyed along with a lot of trash, old papers, etc. It is the belief of Luxembourg that the fire started from a lighted cigarette.

The fire department was quick in its response to the alarm and prevented the fire from spreading to a gasoline filling station near the Schoepf residence.

The firemen were somewhat handicapped by the congestion of fire fans and their motor cars. One fireman said that everything on wheels followed the fire truck.

BLACKEYE BEAN HARVEST NOW UNDER WAY

Blackeye beans are being harvested and it is expected that the bulk of the crop will be out of the fields before the end of September.

The crop is good, according to various ranchers, though somewhat below early promises. Blackeye beans were planted over a large acreage this year, the growers said, due to drought expectancy. For this reason Orange county probably has the largest blackeye bean crop in its history.

Considerable lima land was planted to blackeyes. According to indication, the limas will be of high quality. Harvesting the limas will begin shortly.

Charles E. Morris, bean broker, estimates Orange county's blackeye crop between 100,000 and 125,000 sacks. He figures on 5,000 to 100,000 sacks from the Irvine ranch, Southern California should total about 300,000 sacks of blackeyes, while the state total probably will run to 450,000 to 500,000 sacks, according to his estimates.

Limas will produce approximately 150,000 sacks in the county, Morris thinks, though he said they are difficult to estimate under present conditions.

Morris says that from Modesto the story is sent out that almost enough blackeye beans will be raised in Stanislaus county this year to supply the demand of the entire United States.

Northern authorities say that the total annual consumption in America of the blackeye bean, which is really a pea and is so known on Eastern markets, does not normally exceed 300,000 100-pound sacks and with continued favorable conditions Stanislaus county will produce 225,000 sacks this season. The estimate for the entire state is 600,000 sacks, and with a small acreage in Texas it is readily seen that the production will exceed demand more than twice over, they declare.

MAKE CHECK ON UNCLE SAM'S PENNIES

Uncle Sam is in Santa Ana counting pennies.

He is counting the choc malt pennies, the movie pennies, the drug store pennies, and all the other pennies that come under the head of sales tax, known as war tax.

R. E. Ardley, division chief of the U. S. Internal Revenue department, is Uncle Sam's official proxy in this part of the country and speaking for the venerable uncle, he said:

"We are auditing, or making a general check of sales taxes collected: Orange county, so far as we have been able to ascertain shows very few discrepancies. Books seem to be in the best of shape."

"Can't say the same for other sections of the country. In some places the government is finding large discrepancies. The most flagrant cases will be prosecuted in all probability."

"The general check-up was called for by an order from Washington. The check was limited to eight weeks. It will end September 3. We expect to complete our work in Orange county this week."

Ardley and his deputies are staying at St. Ann's Inn.

COUNTY WEALTH PUTS IT SIXTH IN STATE SAY FIGURES

Interesting Data Taken from Report of County Auditor Jerome

VALUE ON BUILDINGS

Tax Rate Low, But Collections for Year Make a Huge Total

Although tenth in population, Orange county stands sixth in wealth of all California counties, judging from its financial transactions for the year ending June 30, 1921, according to the report to the state controller by William C. Jerome, county auditor. The total payments, were $4,567,867.72.

Reviewing the annual report, Jerome said:

"Orange county's tax rate is lower than that of most California counties but due to the county's richness, collections total higher. Collections on the general county tax, last year, for instance, amounted to $845,843.18.

"The county's bonded indebtedness was reduced to $1,528,000. The sum of $153,931.25, combined interest and principal was paid on this account last year. Orange county's bonded indebtedness is limited by law to $5,575,000.

"School bonds issued during the year totaled $657,000, making the total outstanding $1,622,000. Interest and principal paid last year on this account totaled $184,773.30.

"In all, the county redeemed bonded indebtedness to the amount of $333,709.55.

Interesting item

"The county paid to the state through the vehicle act $133,250, but received from the state for the support of county activities $246,976.60. County taxpayers should be interested in this item. It means that the difference in their favor between taxes paid directly into the state treasury as compared with the amount received from that treasury was $113,726.60.

"This is the result of Amendment No. 1, state constitution whereby the public service corporations pay the difference.

"County collections from Santa Ana totaled $148,830.59, and from Fullerton $185,882.27.

"The county paid $16,164.05 for the maintenance of the county hospital and farm, and for the care of inmates, $20,678.14. The care of indigents outside of the hospital and farm cost $14,370.43.

"The total value of property owned by the county was $4,495,081. This total was an estimated valuation of the various county properties, as follows:

"Court house and grounds, including furniture and equipment, $260,000.

Value of Buildings

Pays $300 Front Foot for Property at Second and Sycamore

Three hundred dollars a front foot was paid, in trade, this week for frontage at the corner of Sycamore and Second streets. The sale was of the northeast corner by W. L. Salisbury to Frank E. McCarter, resident of Santa Ana and ranch property owner of Tustin.

Possession of the property was passed to McCarter as part of the consideration in the sale by McCarter to Salisbury of ten acres at Tustin. The ranch is planted to budded walnuts and is said to be a fine property. It is located on Bryan avenue and east of Red Hill avenue.

The lot on Sycamore has a frontage of fifty feet on Sycamore and depth of 125 feet and was sold at $15,000. The ranch was priced at $22,000.

The corner is the property occupied for many years by Fred Holzgrate as a blacksmith and wagon shop and is now occupied by the International Electric company. A two-story brick building is located on the lot.

PERMITS ISSUED FOR BUILDING NUMBER 20

Among the twenty building permits issued at the office of W. S. Decker, city building inspector, during the past week, by far the greatest number were for dwellings.

The most ambitious building for the week was the $15,000 apartment house to be erected for Dr. G. M. Tralle, but of the private residences to be built soon, none is more interesting than the frame dwelling for L. L. Clem which will be built at South Ross street at a cost of $5000.

F. J. Fisher took out a permit for the erection of a frame dwelling and garage at 150 East First street. The building will cost $4000 and will be built by J. Simon Flor.

The total sum involved in the week's building is $43,826 which brings the total for the month of August to date, to the sum of $124,835 for 78 permits issued.

Those issued for the past week were as follows:

R. J. Carey, West Third St., frame dwelling, $2351.

Wm. J. Morrison, 516 East First St., alter and repair dwelling, $400.

C. C. Chavis, 1217 West Fairview, alter and repair residence, $100.

HOME BUILDING IN SANTA ANA ON UP GRADE

Something of Trend In Styles Discussed By Local Architect

"Home building in Santa Ana is steadily increasing in quantity," according to William A. Kays, architect.

Commenting on the recovery of this important phase of building, Kays said today:

"Prospective builders of homes were waiting for price of material to drop. Now they realize that material prices will remain constant. The prices are not going down.

"Hesitation of those desiring to build was understandable. If they erected a house with high priced materials and then while the paint was still fresh, prices suffered radical changes and reductions, the house would have lost a great percentage of its value.

Are Building Now

"This is no longer true, a house built today will remain at a level value, in relation to price of material, for many years to come. Home-builders, therefore are building today instead of waiting, with the consequent loss of comfort incident to living in houses that they cannot call their own.

Mission and Spanish styles prevail among present houses planned or under construction, Kays declared. He said:

"Drawings now on our tables are evidence of the high favor of Mission and Spanish style residences. Stucco walls and tile roofs are being specified. Southern gum is used extensively for interior finish. The plans usually show what might be called extreme lines.

"Interiors of the homes tend to simple dignity. Heavy mahogany or oak paneled dining or living rooms no longer are favored, nor is the high wainscoting and plate rail.

Baseboards In Vogue

"High baseboards, twenty inches usually though in some cases running up to comparatively low window sills, now are in vogue. Plaster walls of harmonious coloring, as opposed to contrasts in wall and woodwork treatment feature the majority of residences now. The quality of grey waxed gum appeals to many homebuilders.

"As to the planning of the house, we endeavor, in a way, to build the walls around the furniture. We believe that correct planning consists of having a right place for each piece of furniture. Too often, inexperienced designers specified an alcove, for instance, which when built is found to be too small for a lounge and too large for other suitable furnishing.

"In planning a residence we locate the furnishings first. Then light brackets, recesses, doors, and the innumerable details of a properly constructed house will be found to be in the right place.

These Are Watched

"Particular attention is paid to planning the kitchen and closet positions, and those features which are the first points noticed by women. Women are particularly discerning in reading sketches of this part of the house.

"Among the drawings on the tables now are those of C. M. McCain, realtor; and E. G. Summers and L. T. Clem of the Santa Ana Lumber company. Asa Hoffman is having

Fullerton to Raise $200,000 for City Government This Year

FULLERTON, Aug. 25.—With $200,000 estimated as the financial requirements for operation of this city for this year, the city council has made a city tax rate that will bring in $194,421.50. The difference will be made up by other sources of income. The tax rate has been set at $1.10 on the $100 assessed valuation, this being an increase of fifteen cents over the rate of last year. The increase was necessitated partially by the increased amount of revenue needed and partially to a drop of approximately $2,000,000 in the assessed valuation. The valuation this year is $17,600,000 as against $19,500,000 last year.

The city council today has under advisement bids submitted for an ornamental lighting system to be installed during the present fiscal year, if present plans are carried out.

It is estimated that the monthly cost for juice will be around $575 or $6900 per year.

YOST TO START MAKING HOUSE LARGER

Making Over of Popular Theater to Be Done Soon, Says Owner

That H. E. Yost is preparing to carry out plans for enlarging the Yost theater to provide seating capacity and stage room for his fast growing amusement business was evidenced today with announcement that he was receiving bids for executing the work. The seating capacity will be increased to 1700 and the stage will be enlarged to accommodate the largest of the traveling companies. The improvements will cost, it is estimated, $30,000.

Plans for the improvement have been in hand for several months but construction has been held back for various reasons.

The building will be extended fifty feet to the east, to cover the rear end of a lot facing on Third street purchased by Yost some months ago as the first step in his enlargement program.

The stage will be moved back and when completed will be 50 by 40, with a 36-foot stage front. This will give the theater a stage larger than that in the average playhouse, said Yost.

Six hundred opera chairs will be added to the lower floor, 500 of which have already been purchased. An upholstered, roomy plush chair in gray and gold has been selected for the new seat section to be added on the lower floor.

The present loges will be removed and will be substituted by family loges seating from twelve to fifteen persons.

The balcony will be worked over and additional seating capacity added. One of the features of the contemplated improvements will be a smoking room for men. It will be inclosed in glass and will be provided with comfortable seats. Here men patrons who smoke may indulge themselves and enjoy the show productions.

It is Yost's present intention to carry out the building program as soon as arrangements can be completed, following award of the contract.

The splendid support given me by the theatergoers of Santa Ana is evidence that my endeavor to provide them with high class entertainment is fully appreciated," said Yost today. "They have been crowding the Yost theater nightly and it has been with no little regret that I have seen lots of them forced to stand in line and wait for the second show. It has been necessary at times to turn people away on occasion of big feature programs where only the one program was given."

"When my building program is completed I will be in position to give my patrons a service it has been my ambition to give ever since I entered the entertainment business in Santa Ana."

YOUR MONEY SENT MAIL ORDER HOUSE IS LOST FOREVER

IF YOU ARE SENDING YOUR CASH OUT OF TOWN—DOING business with mail order concerns—keep mum about the growth—the industries—the advantages or beauty of the town. You have no boast coming. It is a good town not because of you, but in spite of you.

THIS COMMUNITY IS MADE UP OF INDIVIDUALS. ITS prosperity depends on individual effort. If you send your money away for goods that can be purchased here, you injure the town—and yourself.

WHEN YOU BUY FROM A MAIL ORDER CONCERN—YOUR money is gone for good. Not one red cent of it ever comes back. None of it pays for taxes. None of it pays store rent, clerk hire—or does a blessed one of the dozens of things accomplished by home-spent money.

SUPPOSE EVERYONE IN THIS CITY SENT AWAY FOR THEIR merchandise. The town would go to rack and ruin. You wouldn't be able to give property away. There would be little employment for labor. Schools—churches—everything of a public nature would be stripped to poverty.

THERE'S NO REASON WHY ANYONE SHOULD DEAL WITH mail order concerns. Your Santa Ana merchant carries the best grades of merchandise on the market. You know you are getting full value in quality. Your purchases are protected. There is no buying dissatisfaction—long waits—long distance return costs or delivery charges.

YOUR DEALER APPRECIATES YOUR PATRONAGE. HE puts forth every effort to hold your trade. He becomes intimately acquainted with your likes and dislikes—consequently can serve you in the most satisfactory manner. And to top off all of these important advantages—your local merchant can save you money.

BY ALL MEANS TALK UP YOUR TOWN—BUT FIRST WIN the right to speak by spending your money at home. It is the solid worth of home-spent money—not words that establishes the public wealth and welfare of the community.

TRIBBY AND MEXICO FIGHT VICIOUS DRAW

Huntington Beach Battler Sends Opponent Through Ropes With Blow

When Kid Mexico of Huntington Beach and Bert Tribby of Santa Barbara milled to a draw in the main event at the Delhi arena last night most of the fight fans present agreed that the bout was the best staged here for a long time.

The big fellows roughed it around all during the four rounds. There wasn't any stalling or running around. A few more main events like last night and Boyd Ellis would have to put in some more seats out at his arena.

Referee Reed slipped up a little when he called the affair "even-temper" at that as Mexico had the shade. He had the second and the fourth spasms by a wide margin and broke even in the opener. Tribby had the third.

Mexico landed at will in the second with terrific right uppercuts and smashed Tribby through the ropes with a clean right to the jaw. The Santa Barbara boy was down for the count of nine and weathered the round by holding on. He rallied in the next, however, and had the Huntington Beach scrapper covering up from a couple of staggering rights. Mexico forced the fighting in the last round and should have had the decision.

The semi-wind-up lasted about half a round, with Louis Strona of Santa Ana doing most of the lasting. Sailor Al Nelson had a bad time of it and the affair was so one sided that Referee Reed had to stop it.

Jess Reed and Kid O'Neill fought to a draw. O'Neill landed more often but Reed pulled a sensational comeback in the last of the fourth and got an even break.

Frank Ortiz of Redlands got the verdict over Battling Herrera of Santa Ana. The fans rode the referee for about ten minutes about it, but it was the right decision at that. Ortiz did most of the leading and landed the most. Herrera, who looked to be outweighed about ten pounds was game and looks like he might develop into a good one.

Kid Lamb and Kid Sheller monkeyed around for four spasms in the curtain raiser. Nobody knew who they were and nobody cared. Lamb had all the best of it and took off the diamond-studded rice cake.

FREEDMAN WINS IN BOUT WITH TENDLER

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 25.—Lewis Tendler's chances against Champion Benny Leonard looked less bright today as a result of his match here last night with Sailor Freedman.

Freedman, with a vicious rally in the eighth and final round, outpointed Tendler, who is scheduled to meet Leonard this fall.

BIG BOYS TO MEET IN ANAHEIM FIGHT

Jimmy Dime of San Diego, and Battling Savage of Los Angeles, two huskies in the 175 pound class, will clash in the main event at Anaheim tomorrow night, according to announcement today by Matchmaker Walter Abbey. These boys are heavy hitters and old timers in the ring and should provide some torrid milking.

Young Dudley of Anaheim will be on hand with his white sweater to take on Soly Trujillo of Perris. The dusky boy is in the best of shape and going like a house afire. Unless Trujillo is mighty good he is due for a stormy session of it.

What looks like a nifty bout is the affair between Joe Chaney of Whittier and Clarence Ruidoux of Riverside. Chaney has been beating the best of them but he will have to go some to show this baby Ruid

STANDARD RUNS BIG WEEK AT HUNTINGTON

HUNTINGTON BEACH, August 25.—This is Standard Oil week at Huntington Beach. The Standard completed and put three wells on production, and added close to 2000 barrels of new production to its output. Huntington A-10 completed at 2832 is flowing by heads and will probably make 500 or 600 barrels. Huntington A-11 completed at 2650 feet is flowing 900 barrels of 25 gravity oil, one of the nicest producers in the field. Huntington No. 3 completed at 2700 is also flowing and making between 400 and 500 barrels. On the Surf property the Standard is offsetting the National Exploration well with Surf No. 2.

Make Production Test
Drilled to 2260 feet the Talbert Oil company's No. 1 is showing considerable oil and gas and will go on a production test. The well is now being cleaned out, perforated pipe put and being prepared to bring in. Should it fail to make satisfactory showing on production test it will be drilled deeper without delay.

The Texas Holding company is drilling in today and will have what looks like a big well on production before the end of the week. The cement set at 2900 seems to have accomplished results and no further trouble is anticipated.

The Texaco Oil and Refining company has succeeded in getting its No. 2 back on production. The well is making close to 200 barrels, and is pumping steadily. No. 1 is standing up to its old time production and is running close to 500. Drilling of the Texaco's east side property has been contracted to a developing company on a 50-50 basis.

Syndicate Begins Work
The holding of the United Security syndicate on the extreme northeast side of the field have lain idle for number of months. With the showing made by the famous Miley well the property took on new significance and is now being developed. The United Security syndicate is building a rig for well No. 1.

On the Copeland property the Union Oil company has two wells drilling. Copeland No. 3 will be the Union's next producer, here the 10-inch well was set at 3300. Drilling on No. 4 is going nicely at close to 2900. Newland No. 2 is rigged up and ready to commence drilling. Copeland No. 1 holds its 200 barrel initial production with ease.

The Amalgamated Oil company has decided to deepen Fowler No. 1. Drilled to 3225 feet this well came in a few months ago at 325 barrels. The production proved to be the field's highest gravity product. The well recently has shown a tendency to decline in production and is to be deepened. Huntington 2-A is being brought in at 2645 feet. On account of sand troubles the coming in of the well is being delayed.

The Argonaut Oil company is forcing to the front as a developing concern. This company has the wells under way. Argonaut No. 2 set 20 feet of 10-inch pipe. Johnson No. 1 has the lumber on the ground and Wilson No. 1 is rigging up. Argonaut No. 1 is making 150 barrels regularly.

Actual rigging up to drill out the cement at the Bell of Montebello's No. 1 well started today. This well has stood cemented some little time and should be in good condition to test for a water shut-off.

Geo. E. Cloud is rigging up to drill out the cement at No. 1. With 100 yards of Huntington-Owners big producer the Cloud well should be a good one.

Actual spudding in and drilling at Edca No. started yesterday. Located near the Miley gusher, Edca No. 1 has a change of duplicating the well. Ashton No. 2, the big well a week ago of the Eddystone Oil corporation, has settled from a 1000 barrel gusher to a 400 barrel producer. Davenport No. 1 adjoining the Miley gusher property is rigging up for the rotary. Huff No. 1 is the Eddystone's deep well and is now drilling at 3000 feet in sticky shale.

On Settled Production
On the pump for the past five days the Fidelity Oil corporation's No. 1 has settled down to 150 barrels. The oil is running 16 gravity and is carrying considerable sand. As soon as the sand has been exhausted the production is expected to increase and the gravity improve. It is being pumped at the present time about 400 feet to bottom. Close to the Miley well it was thought that it would duplicate it. Had the Fidelity gone another 100 feet it would have probably been a different well.

At No. 2 well the Gypsy syndicate ran astray of 8-inch carrying a heavy plug and will test out the water conditions.

The best well that has ever been brought in in the "Million Dollar Circle" was brought in yesterday. Drilled to 2369 feet and with 27 feet the Huntington-Owners at No. 2, of oil sand drilled through, this new producer is making better than 400 barrels. The production is carrying some sand and absolutely no water. A feature of this well is the perfect shut-off with the 6-inch at 2367. The advent of this well makes the Huntington-Owners one of the successful producers of the field.

A week ago at 2000 feet the Huntington Union No. 1 sprang considerable surprise by its showing of oil. As drilling proceeded this showing subsided. At the present depth of 2300 the drilling is in blue shale that shows streaks of sand. Quantities of gas are present.

Miley Well Trying to Flow
Miley No. 1, the big well of the east side, has been cleaned out to 2705 feet, 8 1/4 screen casing put in, washed out and bailed down. The well is making an effort to flow and is expected to get going again before the end of the week.

Miley-Keck Starts Work on No. 1
Miley-Keck No. 1 has been standing idle for a number of weeks

RICHFIELD, Aug. 25.—Standard Oil success on the Kraemer No. 2 property is measured by just one big well after another. Kraemer 2-13 completed at 4244 started off flowing at the rate of 2000 barrels. Later the big well settled down to 1300. The Wonder Oil company spudded in and started drilling on its third well.

The General Petroleum company has entered into an agreement with the United Oil company to drill Carpenter No. 2. Rigging up is now in progress.

Completed at 3300 feet the Union Oil company's Chapman No. 10 went on production a 400 barrel well. The oil is 21 gravity. No. 5 is the next producer. It is in the oil sand at 4056.

The Amalgamated Oil company spudded in and started drilling on Thompson No. 1 an off set well to the Petroleum Midway's Krug property.

The Clark Oil company's Wetzel No. 1 set 6 inch at 4125. It is now being rigged up to drill out the cement and make a water test.

Drilling on the Dependable Oil Trust Well No. 1 is now making good progress. Big boulders encountered at 500 feet have been passed and now the drilling is going nicely.

An exhaustive pumping test made on the Fullerton Oil company's Anaheim Union No. 1 drilled to 4660 feet failed to produce any oil. The 4 inch casing is to be perforated from 4470 to 4573 and will be tested out in turn. Should the Anaheim Union prove a "duster" it will break the run of deep wells for Richfield production. It will be Richfield's first failure.

The General Petroleum's Jones No. 1 is now drilling at 4050 feet in shale. To date this well has not shown a great deal of encouragement.

Drilling to 2860 feet and cementing the Placentia Oil company failed to get a shut off. A decision to drill ahead and prospect was made. The prospecting work is now at 3000 feet. The formation is sandy shale.

The Petroleum Development company quit drilling on the Bradford Community No. 1 at 4750. Testing out and prospecting for production up the hole is now underway. A test is being made at 4450. The Petroleum Development company now has four producing wells averaging from 125 to 200 barrels.

The Petroleum Midway is one of Richfield's heaviest developers. Eight wells are in the course of drilling.

Toast, hot cakes, cream waffles with maple syrup—breakfast at the Dragon.

awaiting field developments. Work resumed today. The well is being rigged up to start drilling with the rotary at 2590.

Sun Bringing in No. 4
The Sun Oil company is washing out No. 4 with oil preparatory to putting the well on production. Drilled to 2310 feet this well is showing lots of oil and should make a nice well. No. 3 continues to pump and averages a little better than 160 barrels. No. 2 is arising and No. 1 stands cemented at 3455, 10-inch.

LONG BEACH, Aug. 25.—With the starting of two more wells the Shell company now has 6 wells actually making hole on Signal Hill. Mesa No. 1, the next producer, now stands cemented at 2757, just 22 feet deeper than the landing of the 10 inch discovery well. Alamitos No. 1, the discovery well, is being cleaned out and swabbed to increase the flow. Judging from the showing the well has been making it should settle down to an 800 or a 1000 barrel well.

With the placing of Sandburg No. 1 on production the Sandburg Petroleum company will be the second and next company to get production on Signal Hill. Sandburg No. 1 drilled to 2748 feet, set 10 inch at 2690. On drilling out the cement, the sand heaved and filled the well up about 325 feet. Before a water test or production test can be made this sand will all have to be removed. Rigging up for cable tools was quickly done, and now the well is being cleaned out. Sandburg No. 1 presented a lively scene prior to sanding up. Sandburg No. 2 is drilling in the sandy shale at 1675 feet. Sandburg-Fisher No. 1 is to spud in today. Sandburg-Hardboiled No. 1 is marked with a rig.

San Martenes Drills Oil
The San Martenes Oil company drilled out the cement at No. 1. Conditions look like a shut off on the water.

The Signal Hill syndicate No. 1 is nearing 2500 feet and is drilling in sandy shale. The Standard drilled out the cement at Pixby No. 1, secured a water shut-off and is going ahead at close to 4400 feet. No oil showings of any consequence have been reported. "Blondy" Elder is making a splendid drilling record for the Crest Oil company at No. 1. The well is now at 2300 feet, the drilling has been underway for 20 days and is going very nicely. As announced last week the Crest Oil company has taken over the Long Beach Consolidated holding and drills the well on a fifty-fifty basis. The rig is up for this well.

Huntington-Owners, flushed with success at Huntington Beach, are rigging up at Signal Hill with enthusiasm. Rigging up is advancing rapidly and drilling will probably start inside of ten days.

Jack McKeon is again duplicating his former drilling successes on the Oceanic at Signal Hill. Two weeks and 2000 feet is what has been done.

Secures Property
The Petroleum Midway, one of California's largest operating companies, is in the Long Beach field securing properties. Holdings adjoining the Oceanic on the southwest side of the Oceanic have just been closed by the Petroleum Midway.

The big company will secure a number of properties before commencing actual development work.

The Augur-Trebell Oil company will leave the Huntington Beach field for the time being and concentrate its development work on Signal Hill. A rig is up and actual drilling is to start as soon as the rigging up work is completed.

National Crude down spudded in and started drilling one week ago. The log now shows 1100 feet and sandy shale.

The Orange County Petroleum company and the Kentucky-Pacific Oil companies have rigs up and are starting the rigging up work.

Ramsey Bros., Oklahoma oil operators, have a rig up on the Long Beach city reservoir property and will begin drilling with the completion of the rigging up work.

TONNER NO. 1 WELL DECLINES RAPIDLY

BREA, Aug. 25.—The General Petroleum's Tonner No. 1 the redrilled well that came in last week, a 900 barrel well, has declined rapidly to 400 barrels. The well carried more than a thousand feet of oil sand, and promised to be one of the biggest producers in the Brea field. The only explanation is that while the well had the oil sand, the sand did not carry the oil necessary to maintain the initial production. The bringing in of Tonner No. 1 closes the G. P.'s development program in Brea canyon for the present.

The Columbia Oil company's Pico No. 3 completed at 2860 feet two weeks ago continues to produce great volumes of gas and very little oil. Drilling on the Fullerton Oil company's No. 16 is now at 4125 feet and the well is looking quite promising.

H-T-K DRILLING BLUE SHALE AT 2865 FEET

IRVINE, August 25.—The H. T. & K. Syndicate well continues to make its usual progress and is now at 2865 feet, drilling in blue shale.

The Nusatula Oil association's No. 1 is now drilling at 1925. The blue shale formation continues to carry considerable gas.

Wirscher-Gray Drilling Two
The Wirscher-Gray Oil company now has two wells drilling near Balboa. No. 1 is at 2150 feet drilling in shale, and No. 2, known as the W. A. G., is down 450 feet digging in surface formation.

Oil field operations reported to State Oil and Gas Supervisor R. E. Collum during the week ending August 20, 1921, show 29 new wells started, as compared with 23 during the previous week. The total new wells this year is 938 as compared with 556 the same date this year.

Tests for water shut-off this week numbered 28 as compared with 25 during the previous week. Yearly total to date 1014; total to same date last year 811.

Deepening or redrilling jobs this week numbered 8, the same number during the preceding week. Total to date this year 498; total to same date last year 569.

Wells abandoned this week numbered 1, as compared with 4 during the preceding week. Total to date this year 142; total to same date last year 137.

SHOWINGS BAD AT WESTMINSTER WELL
Drilling on the Westminster Oil company's wildcat well is now at 4100 feet. The showing is not encouraging. considerable limestone with streaks of sand has been drilled through during the past 200 feet. As the well stands now production does not seem possible short of 4200.

GARDEN GROVE STILL HOPEFUL
GARDEN GROVE, August 25.—Drilling on the Standard's Garden Grove test well is now at 3335 feet. The formation is very hard and drilling is going a little slow. No showings of oil have been reported.

GUSHER BRINGS PRODUCTION OF 800 BBLs.

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Aug. 25.—Another gusher bringing in 800 barrels, 26-gravity oil, marks Well No. 1 on the Texas Holdings lease in the Garfield addition, the latest producer in this wonder field.

The well, which is located near the Holly sugar factory, today registers a 275 pounds gas pressure and the flow of oil is held down to a three-eighths-inch outlet.

Owners of land leased to the oil company include B. W. Houston and R. L. Obarr, of Huntington Beach; Ted Baxter and Grover Beeser, of Santa Ana, C. W. Gardner and J. E. Houston, Iowa, and W. D. Seeley of Long Beach.

OPERATIC TENOR WALCH IS DEAD

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—Oscar Walch, famous on the Pacific Coast as an operatic tenor and prominent recently in vaudeville, fell dead as he was dining with his wife at the Hotel de France on Sunday.

He had recently come to New York with his wife, known on the stage as Daisy Land. The remains will be sent to Pueblo, Colo., the home of both the decedent and his widow.

CEREMONY HELD 3000 FEET IN THE AIR

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—Flying at an altitude of 3000 feet over Long Island sound, Charles S. Haight unfolded an American flag containing the ashes of his father, Charles F. Haight, and scattered them to the winds.

This strange ceremony, which took place Sunday, was viewed from the ground by the dead man's widow and two other children. The unique disposal of the remains of the late Haight, a widely known Brooklyn insurance official, was in accordance with a wish expressed just prior to his death a month ago.

This Is the Way to Make Every Buy a Bargain

BUY advertised goods. Only good goods, fairly priced, can stand the spotlight of publicity.

A merchant or manufacturer would not dare to advertise merchandise that is poor in quality, poor in make or that will not give reasonable wear. The penalty of such tactics is too heavy. No goods—and no business concern—can thrive under the weight of public condemnation.

A merchant places the whole reputation of his business at stake every time he advertises. Naturally enough, he is careful of what he says and when his statement is placed in the newspaper—where everyone in town may read—so that any untruth in it will be known to all of his employees and most of his friends—then you may be sure he is doubly careful.

When you buy advertised goods you get a bargain because they must be as advertised.

So it pays you to read advertisements. Advertising protects you.

Read the advertisements in THE REGISTER and get the best of the bargain.

GOVERNMENT ACTION SURPRISES LAWYER

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 25.—The government's tax appraisal proceedings today against the heirs of the late Henry Miller consisted merely of submitting documentary evidence that the cattle king's properties were worth $39,000,000 and a claim for $6,000,000 taxes, penalties and interest.

The government then rested its case, a proceeding that admittedly surprised E. F. Treadwell, attorney for the heirs, who said he had expected oral evidence in addition to the $39,000,000 appraisal of the collector of internal revenue. He obtained from Francis M. Wright, the special master in chancery, who is hearing the case, a continuance of a week to bring in witnesses to sustain his contention that the estate is only worth $32,000,000.

According to the government's showing the heirs never have filed an inheritance tax return.

SAN BERNARDINO — San Bernardino county plans to repair the Old Trails highway westward from the Colorado River bridge, according to the county highway commissioner.
The worst part of the road is west of Ludlow and work will begin here at once, it is stated. Commissioner Cole says travel is comparatively heavy, estimating that from fifty to one hundred machines pass over this road every day, most of them transcontinental travelers.

CHINO — An unstinting use of spray by the apple growers in the Chino district is the cause of the excellent quality and cleanliness of the apples this year is the opinion of G. A. Hillman, who raises twenty-seven varieties of apples and three varieties of pears on his five acre ranch just east of End avenue of Riverside drive. In addition to the spraying Mr. Hillman has had three inspectors come this year to examine his fruit trees.

SAN JACINTO — At a mass meeting held Thursday evening it was decided that San Jacinto would join with Corona, Elsinore and Perris water users in forming an organization to co-operate with the state water commission in making a survey of the San Jacinto water shed. It is estimated that this will cost $10,000 and occupy a year's time. The state will appropriate half of this sum. It was decided to solicit the ranchers for funds to raise San Jacinto's quota of the $5000.

2,000 WATERMELONS VICTIMS OF WRECK

OLIVE, Aug. 25.—Between 1800 and 2000 watermelons were broken so that they could not be marketed when an automobile driven by Frank Cullett, 2471 American avenue, Long Beach, was struck by another machine on the Santa Ana canyon road, nine miles east of Olive. Cullett sustained a wrenched back.

The accident happened when the driver of a car going in the opposite direction tried to pass Cullett.
A motorcycle rider appeared on the scene just as the two cars were about to pass. The driver of the car approaching Cullett tried to avoid hitting the motorcycle and sideswiped Cullett's car.

Cullett's machine, loaded with watermelons, went over the embankment. He was thrown clear of the machine, but fell in such a manner that his back was hurt. The damage to his automobile consisted of a bent axle, broken right fender, double radiator rods bent and the top completely wrecked.

CLUBWOMEN ENJOY
SOCIAL AFTERNOON

LA HABRA, Aug. 25.—A delightful afternoon was spent by the women of the May Johnson club at the home of Mrs. M. F. Davis, on

Busy fingers and nimble tongues sped the moments until the hostess served dainty refreshments. A short musical concluded the afternoon.

Those included were:
The Meddams Varney, Snow, Wolfe, Ansley, Warner and Redfern.

Mrs. A. Knier returned Saturday from a two months' vacation trip to Eastern points. Mrs. Knier reports a splendid trip, and while away visited friends at Idaho, Montana, Nebraska, Missouri and Illinois.

Mrs. Harry Tyner met with what might have been a serious accident recently. In parking her car, she did not stop at the curb, but went on through the plate glass window of the Rock Bottom store; aside from a severe fright and the broken glass no damage was done.

The J. H. Walkers were pleasantly surprised when some cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Clay, from Missouri, who have been summering in Denver, stopped at their place en route to Long Beach, where they will spend a few days before locating in Southern California for the winter.

The La Habra Midway is now at a depth of 1125 feet and everything is going nicely. It is stated that the formation being encountered is similar to the famous Murphy-Coyote.
Balboa Beach was the point of interest to a party of La Habrans for a picnic dinner on the sands on Sunday. Those to motor to this popular resort were:

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Walling, Mr.
and Mrs. Charles Varney, the P. W.
Taylor family and their niece, Miss Mary Louise Hickam, Mr. and Mrs.
William Snow and family, and Mr.
and Mrs. E. E. Prond.

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA

YUCAIPA — Yucaipa has two apple crops, and then some, on the trees this year. The early varieties are just beginning to turn and those who took a trip to the valley recently saw trees so loaded with apples that the whole tree is almost pulled to the ground. Props are being used in any quantity and the ground in some orchards is covered with apples thinned out and yet the crop is too heavy for the trees. Frantic efforts are being made to rush three new packing houses to completion in order to care for the heavy crop.

JNDIO, Aug. 25.—Information has been received here that it is the intention of the U. S. Department of Agriculture to attend the Coachella Valley Festival of Dates, which will be held October 21-23, practically in a body. It is expected that eighteen or twenty officials and experts will be in the party. Also there will be several carloads of exhibition material which has been collected from all parts of the date-growing world.

Professor S. C. Mason, who is now in Egypt, reports that he is to have phenomenal success in collecting exhibits from every section that he has visited. The department of agriculture is taking a keen interest in the festival, probably because dates is the most striking success, that it has had in the development of new industries.

EVENING SALUTATION
Laughter and song,

Hard pull for a mile or two,

Be strong and be just;

THE SMALL CLAIMS COURT

The new California law establishing a small claims court may not be constitutional. A number of judges and attorneys have been quoted as saying that they are satisfied that the law will be knocked out when it is given a test in court for the reason that in the case to be tried in the small claims court no jury is permitted and attorneys are not allowed to appear. The court under the new law is authorized to try any claim for less than $50.

While a claim for less than $50, at first glance, looks like a small sum, to many a litigant $50 means a great deal, and in doing substantial justice to all litigants the courts should see to it that substantial justice is done in every case that comes before it. In the small claims court the character and ability of the justice of the peace counts for everything. If he is the fair-minded man he is supposed to be, the small claims court will work out as a poor man's court.

So far, none but the collection agencies have interested themselves in attempting to smash the new law. Attorneys in general are quite willing that the court be maintained. The collection agency, however, sees a lot of its business gone by the board. A case has been started in a Redlands justice's court, and, according to the declaration of the collection agency pushing the action, is to be taken to the supreme court of the state.

The very fact that the attack is made by a collection agency points the finger to the real reason for the establishment of the court. The intention of those who fathered the idea and saw it through the legislature and into law was good. There ought to be some legal method of settling differences concerning small bills without having to go through the haggling process followed by so many collection agencies and without incurring the expenses that court actions frequently entail. If this law is found unconstitutional, another will doubtless be framed, and, eventually, a workable law will be secured.

FIVE MEN IN HOSPITAL

It was announced the other day that the finest government hospital in the country, built in Chicago and presented to the War Department by Edward Hines, has exactly five patients. That is a million dollars' worth of hospital for every patient.

The doughboys convalescing there are embarrassed by their grandeur. They are lost in a vast plain of white beds and new linen, with three majors, two orderlies and two nurses killing them with kindly attention, and three clerks trying to find something to do.

The situation is explained officially as due to the fact that the hospital is not formally opened, and the five patients already there are merely the advance guard of a unit that is expected eventually to make use of the hospital's facilities. The fact, though, that the big wards fill up so slowly seems to suggest that the pressure for hospital accommodations for disabled service men is already relieved, and that if there are not now ample accommodations for everybody, there soon will be.

A FRENCH VICTORY SCORED

The wireless telephone is a toy for inventors and a novelty for aviators to practice with, although its ultimate development for commercial use seems assured. The submarine telephone is an accomplished fact.

Two French experts, Gaston Vincent and Louis Duverger, have been experimenting with the 100-mile cable from Antibes to Corsica, placed at their disposal by the sympathetic French government, and they report the most gratifying progress. Now Paris is talking of submarine telephone connection with New York and points even more distant beyond the sea. Actual work is promised within the twelve-month.

German electricians have been working on the same problem for a decade, but without success. The credit for this new triumph over space goes to the French. Anyway, the war cost Germany her overseas possessions and she has less use for such communication.

France has simply made the most of opportunity. The whole world profits by the success.

"BUY AT HOME" SOUND LOGIC

"Live at home" has become a familiar southern slogan, meaning not exactly to "stay at home" but to "get your living at home." It is a fine thing for the South particularly, because it stresses diversity of crops. It is a good principle for any family or community that gets its living from the soil, because it aims at economic independence.

Now many southern towns are adding the slogan, "Buy at home," which is a principle no less broad in its application. The idea is to get behind the home merchants, in the realization that with their business success is bound up the success of the community. Thomasville, Ga., has been emphasizing that idea. The local paper says:

"This town is conservative, therefore safe. It is well fortified by clearthinking and honest business men. They are entitled to our business and they have proven it time and time again. We can make more for ourselves by trading at home and trading in the normal way than we can by all the glooms and growls and hold outs that ever infested the body politic. Get busy, folks, and let's make business at home the best business we have anything to do with."

This is economically sound. With proper co-operation between home-town merchants and home-town citizens, goods can be sold on a more economical basis than they can in big cities.

There is too much running to the metropolis of every section for goods that could be bought in the smaller community to the mutual advantage of dealer and customer. With increased patronage, local merchants can sell at a smaller margin of profit.

It is especially desirable to buy, in any community, foodstuffs or manufactured goods produced in that community rather than similar things from a distance. The consumer always has to "pay the freight," literally and figuratively. Why pay unnecessary freight, unnecessary car fare and unnecessary profits because of a foolish regard for the prestige of a big city?

Colonizing The Tropics

San Francisco Chronicle

Possibly Iquique, Chile, is not just now the best source of inside information about Peru, but the story comes from there about an attempt to colonize Peru east of the Andes with farmers from the corn states of the Mississippi valley is circumstantial and is very likely in the main correct. It appears that some promoter has got a concession of 650,000 acres—roughly a thousand sections—of land on the upper Amazon and undertook to colonize it from the United States. A fine lot of farmers were rounded up in the Mississippi valley who expressed willingness to go, but, with unusual prudence, selected a committee of fifteen to visit the promised land and look it over, agreeing to emigrate forthwith if the report were favorable. The fifteen went, and it is easy to imagine the astonishment of those prairie farmers at the luxuriance of that tropical forest and their horror at the idea of grubbing out those trees and making farms out of the ground which bore them, fertile as it doubtless is. The report was what might be expected from a prairie committee and that particular colonization boom is busted. The committee doubtless had an interesting trip. It is not stated who paid the expenses. The sturdy race which cleared the forests of this country east of the prairies is extinct. And it is improbable that even they could have done what they did in the tropics.

That the vast and fertile lands of the Amazon and other South American streams will ultimately be densely populated and intensively cultivated we do not doubt. The time will come when their products will be very welcome. But it is safe to say that the great work will not be done by the races which have developed in northern Europe. The heat quickly saps their energies. But there are others.

Interest In Baseball

Riverside Press

There was a time when Riverside was one of the best baseball cities of its size in California; many of the "old timers" will recall those days when Riverside supported a good amateur team and when the games drew good crowds, better crowds in fact than we ordinarily get out to a game now. In recent years there have been several flurries of interest in the great national game and various efforts to include Riverside in some sort of a small city league circuit, but the response in public interest has not been encouraging.

Just now, however, there is a degree of interest in baseball that is quite promising. At the Y. M. C. A. two series of indoor games, one for the boys and one for the business men, are being run off with an excellent degree of interest. The indoor, or playground, game is not so strenuous for middle-aged business men and some of the most enthusiastic players in the men's league at the Y. M. C. A. are men of that type; but it is real baseball just the same. The new city league which has been organized following the game between the Rotary club and the Kiwanis starts off well. Go and see the next game at Evans park between the Bankers and the Kiwanis, if you doubt this, and you will have a good time. Arlington and Corona have teams in the new citrus belt league and there is a hot contest on for leadership in the county league which includes most of the cities of the county outside the county seat.

Baseball is a clean, manly, enjoyable sport; and the game should be given support and encouragement from all lovers of outdoor sports. This city has turned out some good players in the past, chief of whom is Jack Meyers of National league fame; and with proper interest in the sport will no doubt develop others. The Poly high school league this year and at Evans park between the Bankers and the Kiwanis, if you doubt this, and you will have a good time. Arlington and Corona have teams in the new citrus belt league and there is a hot contest on for leadership in the county league which includes most of the cities of the county outside the county seat.

If you can play, annex your talent to some team in the city, indoor if not outdoor; and if you cannot play, get in and "root." That will help maintain the interest in the revival of baseball that is now taking place in Riverside.

November 11 a Day of Hope

Visalia Delta

The suggestion that the disarmament conference shall convene on November 11, Armistice Day, meets with very general approval, and it is hoped that no untoward circumstances will postpone the gathering.

It will be the third anniversary of the cessation of hostilities in the great war. The first anniversary passed with little but thankful comment, because the hurt of war was so recent that the mere fact of its stopping seemed comfort enough. But when the second anniversary came, and still the world halted, quarrelsomeness, bickering, all tangled up, with no visible progress toward the final stability which all men desired, the whole world knew that something was wrong that must be righted.

If the third anniversary actually witnesses the assembling of the great powers to take practical steps toward a reduction of armaments, it will seem at last as if the war with all its horrors and sacrifices has not been in vain.

WHAT THE ARTIST GIVES

One of the evidences of higher spiritual appreciation in the world was the sincere tribute recently given at the death of Caruso.

Few men of this generation have been more deeply mourned.

For nearly a quarter of a century his "golden voice" brought happiness into people's hearts and made the world a better place in which to live. While he was in the midst of suffering, toward the end, he told those near and dear to him that when he got to Heaven he would sing forever!

When a great business man or statesman dies, he leaves, many times, a divided opinion as to his worth. But when the artist goes away the tribute is universal. And there is in this a note of prophecy looking toward harmony and beauty as a general heritage for all mankind.

The echo of the singer's notes from the divine chords in this throat, the vibrations from the strings of the harp or violin touched by the fingers with love running through them—what is there that can more deeply arouse the sense of the soul?

And then there is the painter. A writer once said of a great artist that he mixed his paints in his heart.

There can never be too much art in this world of ours.

That which arouses art most in us is Nature. And from her lap we must stoop to fill our hands that we may pass her generous gifts along. Truly "art is long, life brief." Austin Dobson puts it beautifully:

All passes; Art alone

Enduring stays to us:

The Bust outlasts the throne,

The coin, Tiberius.

The Velvet Hammer

BY A. B. B.

JOHN W. TUBBS

In making Tubbs a member of the city Trustees board, a victory for progress was unquestionably scored. For five long busy years he's watched municipal needs and, always on the job, his ideas have turned to deeds. When Johnnie finds a thing ought to be done, he'll surely do his best to put the stunt across with neither fuss nor stew.

The praise of Santa Ana he delights to sing and chant. In his bright lexicon of youth there's no such word as can't. Wherever common efforts strive to gain the common end, he's back of the idea as a booster and a friend, who doesn't hesitate to shed some effort and some sweat for any prize he thinks that Santa Ana ought to get.

He sells the Stephens Salient Six and trucks by Mr. White, a pleasure or a business car, and both will treat you right—the one in sticking swiftly to the surface of the road, the other in arriving with the driver and its load. Like John's inspiring merchandise, he's full of speed and pep, and many persons could progress by copying his step.

SONG

He that is down need fear no fall;
He that is low, no pride;
He that is humble ever shall Have God to be his guide.

I am content with what I have,
Little be it or much;
And, Lord, contentment still I crave, Because thou savest such.

Fullness to such a burden is That go on pilgrimage;
Here little, and hereafter bliss,
Is best from age to age.

How Is Your Health?

By Uncle Sam, M. D.

Send health questions to Information Editor, U. S. Public Health Service, Washington, D. C. Give name and address and you'll receive a personal reply.

A man of average stature has about 16 square feet of skin with 2,381,248 sweat glands, each sweat gland coil when unraveled being one-sixteenth of an inch long, so that a man's sweat-excreting tubes placed end to end would measure just two and one-third miles. The sweat glands in the palms and the soles and the armpits are larger and more numerous than in other parts of the body.

Normally, sweating is continuous and not intermittent, but most of the time the sweat is exhaled from the body surface in the form of vapor and hence is insensible. When the temperature of the surface of the skin rises above the normal, the sweat increases sufficiently to become noticeable.

The chief purpose of sweating is to regulate the temperature of the body, though it also serves as a sub-ventilating system for the disposal of poisonous waste matter within the body which is not taken care of by the kidneys. When the sweat glands are not functioning properly, there is a greater strain on the kidneys, a rise in body temperature to a fever heat and less resistance to disease. Likewise, when the bowels are not functioning properly, the sweat glands are called upon to do overtime work and again sickness may result.

To keep the sweat glands working well take plenty of baths. Warm baths are especially good to keep the pores open and the sweat glands working. One must be careful, however, after warm baths to avoid catching cold.

Light, loose clothing should be worn in hot weather so as to give the sweat glands full play in throwing off waste matter.

Life and Right Purposes

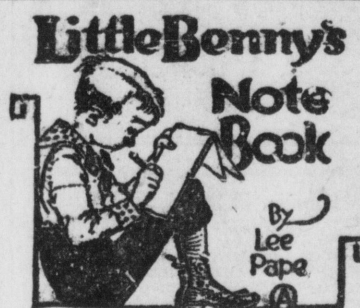

John Burroughs

Life is a day's work, a struggle where the forces to be used and the forces to be overcome are much more vague and varied and intangible than are those of the chessboard. Life is co-operation with other lives. We win when we help others to win. I suppose business is more often like a game than is life—your gain is often the other man's loss, and you deliberately aim to outwit your rivals and competitors. But in a sane, normal life there is little that suggests a game of any kind.

We must all have money, or its equivalent. There are the three things—money, goods, labor—and the greatest of these is labor. Labor is the sum of all values. The value of things is the labor it requires to produce or obtain them. Were gold plentiful and silver scarce, the latter would be the more precious.

The men at the plow and the hoe and in the mines of coal and iron stand first. These men win from nature what we all must have, and these things are none of them in the hands or under the guardianship of some one who is trying to keep us from obtaining them, or aiming to take our aids and resources from us.

Life may more truly be compared to a river that has its source in a mountain or hillside spring, that has its pure and sparkling or foaming and noisy youth, then its quieter and stronger and larger volume, then its placid and gentle moving current to the sea. Blessed is the life that is self-purifying, like the moving waters; that lends itself to many noble uses, never breaking out of bounds and becoming a destructive force.

MUNKEYS

Our ancestors descended from monkeys Millions of centuries ago. But judging by the looks of some people It was only last year or so.

All monkeys make the same kind of faces And look like one another. Proving even if nobody else did, At least they descend from each other.

The time ones eat peanuts in cages, But deep in their jungle lair They drink the milk out of coconuts, Proving they knew it was there.

Munkeys like to travel like a squirrel Thro the trees Instead of on the ground like a rabbit. And they spend their spare time scratching, which may be partly flies But is properly partly habit.

O they hang by their tails from branches Swinging near and far As if they thought they were champagne acrobats On the horizontal bar.

SAFETY FIRST

"When I was once in danger from a lion," said the old African explorer, "I tried sitting down and staring at him, as I had no weapons."

"How did it work?" asked his companion.

"Perfectly. The lion didn't even offer to touch me."

"Strange! How do you account for it?"

"Well, sometimes I've thought it was because I sat down on the branch of a very tall tree."—Miami Herald.

THE SUITOR

"Did her father encourage you?" "No, he touched me for fifty dollars and that sort of discouraged me."

MADE IT ALL RIGHT

The new office boy had been sent to the postoffice by his chief with two important letters.

"Did you mail those letters?" asked the chief on his return.

"Yes, sir, just mailed them," was the reply. "But you made a mistake—you put a two-cent stamp on the letter to Italy and a five-cent stamp on the one to Seattle."

"How annoying!" said his master. "What did you do?"

"Oh, I made it all right, sir," said the boy cheerfully. "I noticed it just in time, so I slipped into the post office and altered the addresses."—Chicago Herald.

A PERTINENT QUERY

During the filming of a moving picture in England the director said to the leading man, "Mr. Blank, I have borrowed a real live lion for this scene and it will pursue you for 500 feet."

"For 500 feet?" said the actor.

"Yes," replied the director. "No more than that. Understand?"

Bear Stories for Bedtime

Chapter 123

A CHICKEN CAN CACKLE IF IT WANTS TO

By Harvey Elliott

By the time Old Sittin' Biddy had gotten Billy Bear chased around the hen house, there was great excitement among Farmer Smith's chickens. Old Biddy went back to her nest cackling. Four more hens, sitting in other boxes, saw Billy go, and they started to cackle. The old Rooster over in the barn-lot took up the chorus and he began to cackle. Nearly every hen about the farm, Billy thought, joined in, and what a miserable racket they made!

Billy didn't know what the consequence of all that cackle-fest might be. He preferred to have things a little more quiet, when he visited the Smith farm. The first thing he knew he would see Farmer Smith's gun poking around the corner of the hen house. And then what?

"Shut up!" shouted Billy. "I'm not hurting anybody." He thought his big bass voice would settle them. But "cackle, cackle, cackle," they all went, louder than ever.

Billy was getting exasperated at the whole bunch. That old Rooster seemed to be the ring leader. He had a bigger voice and cackled louder than all the rest. Billy's fighting spirit was getting aroused.

"Quit it, I tell you," yelled Billy. "or I'll hammer that corn-cob all out of you." And then the old Rooster and all his wives cackled louder than before.

Billy couldn't stand it any longer. He didn't want to hurt anybody, but that old Rooster and the rest needed to be taught some manners. So Billy started for that Rooster on the run.

Now Billy thought that when the chicken family saw that he meant business all the cackle stuff would stop. But he was fooled again. He made that Rooster get up and go, but he made the cackle go, too. Louder and louder did the old Rooster and all his tribe squawk and yell and flap their wings and run for dear life.

Then Billy Bear heard a voice that didn't sound just like a chicken. He stopped running the old Rooster long enough to listen. That voice was clear enough now. It was the bark of Collie the Dog. Things were getting wakened up to the house.

For the first time that afternoon Billy thought about home. He wasn't afraid of Collie the Dog, but he feared the whole Smith family would be coming out with their guns and then there might be trouble.

Since Billy didn't come to the Smith farm to look for trouble he thought it best to start home before trouble came. Collie the Dog followed him all out of you. And then the old Rooster and all his wives cackled louder than before.

Fortunately for Billy, Farmer Smith and Tommy were out in the field and knew nothing about the racket that went on in the barnyard at home.

Billy Bear went home feeling he had been completely outwitted by Farmer Smith's chickens. "After all," he said, "I reckon a small thing like a chicken has some rights around its own home."

ARTICLE X INTERPRETED

It may be questioned whether Article X of the covenant of the League of Nations is at present of more than academic interest. However, inasmuch as that article has played so big a part in public discussion in the past, and may assume vital interest again some time, it is worth while to note what is becoming of it.

Several other nations, including Canada, wanted to eliminate it from the covenant. It was thought that the article might be dropped or materially modified. The league has done neither. The amendments committee of the assembly has turned down all hostile amendments offered by member nations, saying:

"The committee has decided unanimously in favor of the maintenance of the principle set out in Article X. The exclusion of acts of aggression as a means of modifying the territorial integrity and political independence of states is the very essence of the League of Nations."

The committee interprets this much disputed article as meaning exactly what it says, and no more—the protection by the league of the territory and sovereignty of its members "against aggression."

"Article X," it declares, "was not intended to perpetuate territorial and political organization as established and as existing at the time of the recent treaties of peace. Changes may be effected in that organization by various legitimate means. The Covenant admits the possibility."

Thus, it appears, the league would not presume to meddle with the Irish question, even if Ireland insisted on pulling out of the British Empire.

The assembly is expected to accept this report, and thus the interpretation will stand as official.

It is a victory for Article X, but hardly more than a moral victory. For the committee also expressly declared that members are not obliged, in any case, to accept the "advice" of the league council regarding military intervention in behalf of other members, but are free to make their own decisions. Thus the practical result seems to be that the article, while robbed of its fear, is robbed also of its force. Pledged aid that depends in every instance on voluntary action is no compulsion at all, and may be no aid at all.

AUGUST'S NEW CITIZENS

Statistics do not necessarily mean much. In the hands of an expert they can be used to prove almost anything. Also they are supposed to be dry and deadly dull. Nevertheless they persist in having an interest for the public, particularly when given in small doses on subjects concerning which most know little. All of which introduces and at the same time excuses the following quotation of Department of Labor naturalization figures for the month of August.

During that month, Secretary Davis announced recently, there were 26,171 declarations of intention, 14,471 petitions for naturalization, and 16,481 certificates of naturalization. Among those naturalized were 1,029 Italians, 825 Germans, 665 British, excepting Canada, 538 Russians and 517 Poles.

August is the first in many months during which Germans have not led in becoming naturalized. Why the Germans have dropped behind, or why the Italians have forged so far ahead, remains unexplained. Perhaps the number of un-naturalized Germans in this country is about exhausted. Perhaps the Italians are feeling more keenly the effects of all the Americanization work which has been going forward in recent years. At any rate we are glad to welcome the 16,481 to full citizenship, while the great work of democratizing and Americanizing native citizens and immigrants alike proceeds.

Was it the coffee or the movie star that made the other famous? Anyway, they're both well roasted.

COLLEGE BOY FOR SALE

A student in Illinois University has offered to sell himself for one year for $1,200 to any one who will advance him the money to complete his college course. He has stated that he will pledge his services for any purpose that may be required and try to do anything asked by his purchaser. Either the young man phrases his ideas poorly or he is following a style of hysterical advertising which has been all too common of late.

There is no need for any ambitious youth to offer himself for sale even for a year, in order to complete a college course. There are scholarships, funds and loans to be had by the deserving from nearly all colleges and universities. There are jobs to be had within college bounds and outside. There are vacations which can be devoted to earning.

Long before the path to higher education was made as easy as it is today for the impetuous boy or girl, hardy, whole-souled young men and women were putting themselves through college without bartering themselves in any blind bargains. The Illinois youth would probably find a richer response to his appeal if it were less spectacular and more in keeping with the ideals of his predecessors.

Congress is trying to perform the miracle of lowering everybody's federal taxes without lowering the federal income.

FRUITLESS ARGUMENT

Are Irish eloquence and Irish facility of argument, so long used to advance Ireland's cause, to be used now for its defeat?

The negotiations between London and Dublin lately have taken a merely argumentative turn which gets nowhere. De Valera and the other leaders for whom he speaks have seemed, to many American friends of Ireland, to be concerned rather with legal technicalities and logical hair-splitting than with the substance of the issue at stake.

It is well enough to be precise, and to stand on one's dignity, in diplomatic negotiations, but it is not logical precision and personal or partisan dignity that are going to save Ireland in this momentous juncture. If the Sinn Fein is to win what is now within its grasp it must show a bigness and breadth that have been missing in the recent disputations. It must speak and act in a way that will command the respect of other nations, and will make an appeal to the heart and conscience of the British themselves instead of antagonizing them.

The greatest difficulty the Irish patriots have is in facing reality. As the rest of the world sees it, it is hopeless for South Ireland to expect independence in this generation, but it is easily within South Ireland's reach to obtain a degree of self-government greater than any previous Irish movement has aimed at, and great enough to make the Irish as free as the Canadians or South Africans or Australians. That would be more than half a loaf, and it might lead by natural evolution to a whole loaf within a period that would be very short when reckoned with Ireland's historic period.

Great Britain evidently cannot or will not grant more than Lloyd George has offered. The British people seem to stand with him on that. If De Valera makes further negotiations impossible by a too legalistic attitude, the truce of Dublin may soon end, and that would be a hideous end to so promising an opportunity.

Celebration of Armistice Day

San Bernardino Sun

That anything like a misunderstanding should arise over the celebration of a day that means so much in American history as Armistice Day is not only to be deplored—it must be prevented, if possible. Three years ago November 11 there were 2,000,000 unarmored young Americans in France, and 2,000,000 more under arms and in training here in the home land. Therefore the day is almost hallowed to these 4,000,000 veterans, for it meant the climax of the most notable experience which had yet come to them, and indeed the final act in the patriotic crusade in which they had enlisted. It is but natural, therefore, that it should be regarded as a day of days, that it should be set apart for observance by them, and that on that day they should ask the people of the United States to join with them while they recall the memory of the dead, the valor of the living, and the sacrifices which all made to bring the victory that finally unhorsed autocracy in Western Europe and unsettled half the thrones in Christendom.

We do not suppose for a moment that when Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, proposed that union labor organizations should stage a disarmament demonstration on Armistice Day, he proposed to rob the day of its significance or intentionally to interfere with the celebration for which the American Legion has come to stand sponsor, but unfortunately such would be the effect. The international conference to consider the limitation of armament—President Harding said nothing about disarmament—is to assemble in Washington on November 11. Doubtless there is a sentimental purpose served in the selection of that day by the President and Mr. Gompers conceived the idea of disarmament demonstrations to be held over the country under the leadership or direction of union labor organizations. He therefore sent broadcast through American Federation of Labor channels a proclamation calling on American organized labor to "take the lead in impressing upon the international conference for the limitation of armament the overwhelming world determination to stop conducting international affairs on a military basis."

To such a demonstration, in itself, there could not be the slightest objection, for there is a worldwide—at least a nation-wide sentiment to go as far in the direction of disarmament as national self-preservation will make possible, although that The William J. Bryan, who proposes that the United States shall disarm, regardless of what other nations may do. The lessons of 1915 and 1916 and 1917 are too fresh in mind for that.

But when the plan proposed seems to rob 4,000,000 servicemen of the right to direct the celebration and observance of a day that is peculiarly theirs and that in the necessities of the case means more to them than it can possibly mean to others, their sentiment with reference to it ought to be respected, and no unintentional obstacle be permitted to lie in the way.

Only a few days ago a semi-official statement was given out in Washington in which it was explicitly stated that President Harding had no thought or purpose of interfering with the observance of Armistice Day when the conference was called for November 11, and that a formal proclamation to that effect might follow.

Here in San Bernardino, Armistice Day, 1919, was observed by a splendid home-coming reception and dinner, at which Legion men were guests, that being the first anniversary of the ending of hostilities in Europe. In 1920, with the Legion fully organized, it took charge of a national observance of the day, and plans to do the same this year and in succeeding years. It is their day. Not only should their observance not be interfered with, but we ought universally to help make the day what it is—a milestone not only in American but in world history.

Reforming School Dress

Riverside Press

Leading educators of California have inaugurated a crusade to do away with extravagance in dress among children of our state schools. The movement started in San Francisco, where the girls of the high school of commerce voted to ban silk stockings for school wear. An effort will be made to interest women's clubs of the state in the movement under a slogan, "simple dress and normalcy." Will C. Wood, director of the state department of education, sounds the keynote of the movement in declaring that "no girl should feel that she cannot afford to attend high school because she cannot afford fine clothing."

Wearing of uniform type of dresses has been tried in some city high schools, but this has not been found a satisfactory solution. Agreement by girls themselves to adopt a simple style of dress in an effort to make the schools democratic in fact as well as in principle would go a long way in solving the problem. The over-dressed girl could not long stand against the disapproval of her school mates.

Thinks Swing Should Return

San Bernardino Sun

Manifestly all is not "beer and skittles" in the life of a Congressman. One could almost read between the lines that Congressman Swing has moments when his law office down in El Centro holds out a powerful appeal.

But he has been making a good record on district matters and betrayed some independence in his voting also, for on at least one occasion he crossed wires with the elder statesmen of the Republican organization, when the tariff measure was before the House. Whether San Bernardino county will continue in his district after they get through with redistricting the state at Sacramento may be a bit doubtful, but in any event the state's most southern district is likely to commission him to return to Washington for another two years.

GOING THROUGH ON "HIGH"

Anyone who has driven an automobile knows what the expression "on high" means.

He also knows that he has to get a good start "on high" in order to make a steep hill without changing gears. And I have never met a driver who didn't boast about how his car took steep hills "on high."

There seems to be inbred in everybody a desire to get the most out of ordinary things. As a matter of fact, the car that takes the highest and longest grades "on high" is not necessarily a better car than the one that has to be shifted often.

But there is a lesson in the fact nevertheless.

To go through things "on high" suggests confidence in one's ability not to swerve or to give up or to lose heart.

It seems to say to one's soul that the world is a mighty good place, after all, and that to fail, even, is vastly better than not to try at all.

Individuals and businesses will always have to go through hard times. That is what makes the man or the business worth its salt.

When a business or a man gets too prosperous, there immediately arises a condition that has to be watched with great care. For when everything comes easy, there is no incentive to bore through difficult things.

That is why competition will always remain in the world as the greatest single force for great endeavor.

There is no interest to a race where all cross the line at the same time. Or to a contest that is a "draw."

I talked to a publisher the other day who said that his advertisers had asked him to reduce his rates. I advised him to raise them—and give to his advertiser a better newspaper as an assurance for bigger results to his advertiser. And I believe that my suggestion was sound.

The man who puts his spirit through "on high" during these times cannot fail.

On the contrary he is the one who is filling the Service Bank of the world—and assuring it that bankruptcy cannot come!

Roy Horton finished college where he took out a degree, then opened up an office practicing optometry. You see it sounds quite dignified especially when you tell he served as master of his lodge and pleased the Masons well. In every civic movement he takes an active part but it takes a freckled, snub-nosed boy to really reach his heart.

He'll work his head off for their good he'll lead and guard and guide and then pitch in and help them build a cabin on the side. "Doc" joins in all their frolics and their friendly little bouts, and one and all commend him as the very "Prince of Scouts."

MY STRIP OF SEA

Only a fragment of sea is mine,
Distant and dark and blue—
Only a breach in the stubborn hills
Where the river rushes through.
A little rift in the beetling crags,
With the pine-trees bending o'er—
Beyond it the ocean's endless tides,
And the call of a foreign shore.

I watch a sail in the twilight—
Watch till it fades from sight:
For dreams are mine when ships go by
On the marge of the summer night.
But the soul of youth is a vagabond,
And little enough care we—
For hand in hand, the river and I Go down to the waiting sea.

Work While You Smile

Omaha Bee

Optimism is a most desirable quality, just now. But those who claim that it is all that is necessary in order to put the industrial affairs into apple pie order are exaggerating. Any optimism that disregards hard reality can not be of permanent advantage. When things went wrong there was a cause, or rather, a number of causes. Before sound conditions can be assured and perpetuated, these causes must be recognized and dealt with or the same effects will return. One who looks over the financial history of the United States, with its alternate periods of exhilaration and depression, must be puzzled over whether the normal condition is one of prosperity or the opposite.

Surely mankind has grown intelligent enough to be able to introduce more stability into business affairs. Advocates of the "keep smiling" policy are right only if they take cognizance of the underlying factors and work to improve them as they smile.

Bear Stories for BedtimeBILLY BEAR'S TROUBLE
BY HARVEY ELLIOTT

In the last story we told you how Billy Bear's game of whip cracker with the little calf had landed him down the hatchway of Farmer Smith's barn. It wouldn't have been so bad if Billy could have lain there and rested a while until his head would stop aching. But there was none of that. Just as he struck the bottom he heard something go "Wee-wee" right underneath him. He had landed on the top of a little pig!

Now Old Mother Pig and her family had gone into the basement of the barn to get out of the hot sun. She was lying down in one place and the little pigs were squatted down here and there in other places. One of them happened to be lying at the foot of the hatchway stairs. So this was the piggie Billy Bear landed on when he went down.

Well, it didn't hurt the piggie a great deal, but it thought it was killed and squealed as though it was its last squeal on earth. Now Billy could have handled the situation and apologized to the little pig all right if everybody else had just kept out of trouble. Somebody comes a poking around just at the time when he least wants to see them.

That was Billy Bear's fix. He and the little pig wouldn't have had any serious trouble. But Old Mother Pig had to waken up just at the wrong time. Up she jumped and started for the place where the squeal came from. Well, as it happened, that was the same place where Billy Bear was. He at once recognized Old Mother Pig and Old Mother Pig at once recognized him. You remember they had met on at least two occasions before. Old Mother Pig saw at once that it was the same fellow that had made trouble in her family before.

Billy Bear decided that it was at least time to get up off that squealing pig. He tried to run, but Old Mother Pig was at his heels, biting at his rear end. Billy thought if she would just get a good hold he would show her how to play whip cracker. He had learned the game you know, not long before.

Old Mother Pig did get hold of him once, and, "Wow!" she did pinch his long teeth bit clear through his hide. Billy tried to get somewhere. The first place he saw was up on an old corn planter. He made for this and sat up on the seat while he gave Old Mother Pig a piece of his mind.

The pig family finally went out into the barnyard and Billy climbed down and thanked his stars that things hadn't been any worse. He felt he had had about enough for one day. Running the farm that afternoon in Farmer Smith's absence had been really too big an undertaking. His side hurt where Gawdick the Mule had kicked him; his head hurt where Old Bossie the Calf had cracked him down the hatchway; and his rump hurt where Old Mother Pig bit him. He felt like he just wanted to go right home and have a big long sleep.

And he didn't go any too soon. He had hardly gotten out of sight when Tommy Smith and his Father and the neighbor men with their dogs came trooping back from the Fox hunt. But don't you think it was kind of Billy Bear to run the farm while they were gone?
